

POLITICAL CHECKER GAME SAYS BLYTHE

OLD GUARD PLANS TO HEAD OFF HUGHES WHEN TIME COMES

Roosevelt Sentiment Grows Less But Colonel May Hold Key to Situation—Peace Conferences Are Many—Harding Picked as Likely Dark Horse—First Ballot Will Come Friday and a Nomination Saturday Perhaps.

(By Samuel G. Blythe.)
(Copyright, 1916, by Central Press Association.)

Chicago, Ill., June 5.—Were it not that the association, even remotely, of the name of a dignified and distant justice of the supreme court of the United States with so crass and non-judicial and worldly and political a thing as a delegate to the national convention might be considered as less erminis, I would be tempted to say that the influx of delegates that congested the hotel lobbies and the adjacent bars in Chicago today caused a reflux of the Hughes sentiment which yesterday diminished somewhat.

As they say in the movies, today Hughes became a close-up instead of a fade-away. The incoming delegates representing the proletarian spirit of the party, brought tidings with them of the boys back home being for Hughes because they think Hughes is the man who can do more toward defeating President Wilson next November than any other.

The incoming delegates are all politicians, most of them are or will be candidates for office this fall and the news they brought from the trenches was the more important because it was their own personal news also. You see, as potential candidates, they want all the help at the top they can get. Hence the town buzzed again with Hughes and his supporters took new heart and proceeded to show all comers how there is "nothing to it." A Detroit gentleman, who firmly believes they will control the convention—the old guard and those who revolve around it—listened to these buzzings with entire complacency and looked on the buzzers, not to say the buzzards, with kindly eyes.

Anything to Discourage Hughes
Far be it from the old guard at this time to do anything to discourage the Hughes boom—far be it from them. Indeed, in a sort of left-handed manner, they encouraged the Hughes boom, for, being now engaged in making their assurance that Colonel Theodore Roosevelt is not a convention factor, it is not a temper with the old guard spirit to deprive Hughes of any apparent sustenance until it is absolute that the colonel is cribbed, cabined, confined, confined and otherwise out of the way for keeps. Then, this being certain, they will proceed as they hope, to put out the poisonous gas for Hughes.

So Hughes prospered and so he will continue to prosper until such time as it seems to those intriguing persons to put him in the dust heap where they think they have deposited the colonel. But, despite their apparent deference and complacency, they are watching closely.

It may be that this Hughes demand is real instead of emotional. It may be that when the delegates are all here there will be no recourse but Hughes. In that case the old guard and its corollaries will bow with such grace as is possible to the popular demand, but every back will creak and every mind will contain thoughts that, if printed, wouldn't go thru the mails.

Many Conferences with Progressives
That was the news of the day, the big fact. That and the continued diplomatic interchanges with the Roosevelt men. Their conferences are sort of we-who-are-about-to-slam-you-salute-you affairs.

They met and they talked and beyond a cordiality that amounts to geniality there is nothing done nor anything doing. Certain of the Roosevelt or Progressive men were in excited temper yesterday. They began to talk savagely about what they would do and what they would not do, of reprisals and revenge, but not so the big and important men thereof. These are dickerings, seeking any advantage for their hero and at the same time never overlooking any bets for themselves. No definite thing was done nor said, no authority was demonstrated nor claimed. The various meetings were conferences, but not confidences.

However, not all the shrewd traders are on the old guard side. Various persons have large Progressive holdings and they are shrewdly making a market for them.

Meantime the old guard have nets, traps, snares, bird-line and fly-paper out in all directions for the colonel, hoping to catch him and use him for their purposes. Their latest adventure towards discovering whether the colonel was born yesterday was to send him the preparedness plank for the Republican platform with the polite invitation to revise it in any way he saw fit, make it stronger with strongisms, and send it back. However, the colonel was not born yesterday. He was born tomorrow and he has not fallen up to date. The colonel isn't taking anything proposed by this convention except his nomination.

Checker Game Still in Progress.

Likewise the controlling gentlemen are using various strategies to discern what Mr. Justice Hughes would do in any certain set of circumstances, such as those predicated for example on a nomination and election for president. It was rumored that Governor Whitman of New York had a letter from the justice which said explicitly what might be expected of him. There was a rush for him, but the governor had no such letter. He had nothing but a hope that he may be the ultimate solution himself, which added greatly to the gayety of the day, but, should a person come along with an attorney general in his grasp, say, or a secretary of the treasury of the old guard kind and assured after nomination and election of the justice, and a few other knifknacks there wouldn't be such a great amount of trouble about his nomination. It is the uncertainty of what may happen in that successful future that holds the old guard so sternly aloof. The checker game is still in progress. They have made a few moves. They are not important moves, nor have they much bearing on the outcome of the game. The Roosevelt assault on Hughes is encouraged in a dignified way. The gable and echo continue and the hotel lobbies echo with claims, counter-claims and similar pre-convention commerce.

The card index is sedulously coned and if the old guard is not coned by the card index there is no chance for Roosevelt unless perchance there is an unprecedented disaster. Still, these have happened. Mount Pelée blew her head off. The Titanic went down. The European war began. It may be that the old guard structure will develop a fault, as the geologists would say, and the Roosevelt earthquake result.

Discounting that, however, as not yet apparent, the main interest in the day's doing relate to Mr. Justice Hughes. Several days ago the controlling persons, as they claim, said the Hughes movement was ominous, dangerous. It was from the view of the leaders and politicians and it was deflated in various portions and in various ways their experiments were to the old guard that they could control it when they felt control to be necessary, and now they are in excellent spirits over it. They are not particularly afraid, for this is what they plan.

First Ballot Friday.

They will come to a ballot as soon as possible after the miles and miles of nominating speeches have been unwound, next Friday afternoon probably or early in that evening. They will watch that ballot carefully. They may allow another ballot or two more, but if that second or third shows Hughes dangerous they will adjourn and on that Friday night the attempt will be made to finish the checker game and get the winning combination for the final move. Next Friday is likely to be the most important period of the present week.

If Hughes shows strongly or Roosevelt, maybe the carefully quilt machine will disintegrate and maybe not. If the convention control is good and workable and the party demand can be subordinated to the partisan requirements of the old guard, then in a smoky watch of next Friday night a candidate will be selected, or having been selected before that time, will be declared and enforced and the desperate deed will be done on Saturday morning. The deed will be done and so will the Republican party. There will be much jugglery, jockeying, japing, jousting before that time comes, but, letting ones fancy string along with the fevered fancies of the old guard, and imagine that all this will come to pass, and especially the convention control they assume to have, then, on that Saturday morning neither Colonel Roosevelt nor Mr. Justice Hughes will be named, but another—shall I say Senator Warren G. Harding?

No I shall not say it. You say it. All I say at the present is the Comprehensive Another. Still that man Harding has his possibilities.

G. O. P. DELEGATES POUR INTO CHICAGO

MANY DELEGATIONS SEEK HOTELS WITHOUT DISPLAY

Few that Bring Bands and Banners and Wear Badges of Favorite Sons Give a Touch of Color and Something of a Holiday Aid to the Pre-convention Days.

Chicago, June 5.—Delegates to the Republican National Convention poured into Chicago all day and tonight and it was estimated that very few hundred are not on the ground. Many delegations came quietly and sought their hotels without display but the few that brought bands and banners, and wore badges of favorite sons gave a touch of color and something of a holiday air to pre-convention days.

It was a retiring delegate who wasn't button-holed before he found his room and supplied with information about the "situation." The lobby of the hotel where most of the delegates stopped was cleared early, its chairs and couches even its ferns and palms moved to safe places and tonight there was nothing on the floor but a milling mass of delegates. On the side walk outside and in other hotels in the same section the button-holing and the whispered conversations went on just as vigorously as preparations were made for the big convention show. During the day the bands that came along with the delegations and marching clubs furnished entertainment for talk weary politicians, held up the traffic in Michigan avenue and amused the crowd that had collected.

The routine of arrival and registration was followed by the usual arrangements for state caucuses at which officers and national committeemen will be named. Several delegations, New York and Illinois in particular, factional fights have developed over the selection of the committee. In many of the others there has so far been no sign of trouble and many of the present committeemen will be on the roll when the convention is over.

One of the interesting fights that has developed over the election of the national committeemen is in the Illinois delegation between Roy O. West, who is a candidate to succeed himself and Mayor Thompson of Chicago. The Illinois caucus has been called for tomorrow night and both candidates claim to have a majority. West is backed by the faction headed by former Governor Charles S. Deneen, while Mayor Thompson is counting on the support of Senator Sherman and Frank O. Lowden, Republican candidate.

Fifteen hundred members of the Marion Club of Indianapolis came in today and attended by band paraded the streets cheering for Charles W. Fairbanks for president. This is the first Republican national convention the organization has attended since 1888 when it took an active part in the campaign which resulted in the nomination of Benjamin Harrison.

A procession of three thousand Sherman supporters led by Mayor Thompson of Chicago paraded the streets cheering for their candidate.

Several Burton Glee Clubs made the rounds of the hotels and serenaded the headquarters of the candidates. The Marion Club of Indianapolis, more than a thousand strong paraded in behalf of Charles W. Fairbanks. Senator Weeks' friends visited the hotels with a band while mass meetings were held in the interest of former Senator Burton and Senator Sherman.

The committee of Iowa's delegates appointed to keep in touch with all delegates favorable to the candidacy of Senator Cummins made satisfactory reports at a meeting held late in the day according to the managers of the Cummins boom. It was said that Senator Kenyon held two conferences with George W. Perkins and suggested to him the availability of Senator Cummins as a candidate who would be satisfactory to both the Republicans and Progressives.

War News Summarized

The long-expected general offensive of the Russians against the Teutonic allies seemingly has begun. From both Petrograd and Vienna come reports that the Russians are actively engaged over a front from the Pripiet river east of Brest-Litovsk to the Rumanian frontier—a distance of about 250 miles.

The Russians everywhere are using large numbers of guns and men and according to Petrograd, have achieved successes on many important sectors, taking 13,000 prisoners and a number of guns and destroying or capturing Teuton positions. Along the Bessarabian front in the Diester region, along the lower Stripa, and in Volhynia, the Russian attacks have been particularly violent. In the region of Olik, in the zone of the Volhynian fortress triangle, the Russian guns have heavily shelled a front of more than 150 miles held by the Austrian archduke Joseph Ferdinand.

Around Verdun bad weather has set in and as a result the infantry of both sides have kept to their trenches and only bombardments have taken place. No new changes in position are recorded.

Around Vaux and Damloup, northeast of Verdun, the bombardment on both sides has continued with considerable intensity, while to the west of the Meuse the shelling has been only intermittent.

On the remainder of the front in France, except around Ypres, the situation is reported quiet. About Ypres, however, the Germans and Canadians are continuing the violent fighting that has been in progress since last week, when the Germans under a terrific rain of shells, captured Canadian positions, which later were re-taken in hand-to-hand and bombing encounters. Returning to the attack Sunday, the Germans again forced the Canadians to relinquish the bulk of the recaptured ground, but the Canadians are disputing strenuously the efforts of the Teutons to oust them from the remainder of the positions.

Vienna reports that notwithstanding the sturdy resistance of the Italians, the Austrians have made a further advance into Italy in the Cengio zone, near Asiago. The town of Cesariano and 500 prisoners, three cannon and eleven machine guns and 126 bomb throwers were captured by the Austrians.

Rome admits the retirement of the Italians in the Cengio zone, but says that in the Dalgone valley, the Lagarona valley and on the Posina front, Austrian attacks were repulsed with heavy losses.

In southern Albania, in the region of Avlona, the Austrians have dispensed with their artillery, Italian detachments operating in that vicinity.

LAUNCH WOMAN'S PARTY TO PROMOTE CAUSE OF SUFFRAGE

Will Attempt To Induce Progressives and Republicans To Put An Equal Suffrage Plank In Their Platforms.

Chicago, June 5.—History for women was in the making tonight when the Woman's Party was launched under the auspices of the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage. The night meeting followed the one held by the women during the day marking the opening of their cause and to induce the Progressives and Republicans to put an equal suffrage plank in their party platforms and to obtain their endorsement of the Susan B. Anthony amendment to the constitution. This is the first national woman's party ever launched.

Miss Maude Younger of California, the temporary chairman, made the keynote speech. She said that the woman's party would consider no other issue than equal suffrage at present and that it would throw its influence to that party which supported the Anthony amendment.

Delegates from all over the country were in attendance. The Blackstone theater where their convention is being held was crowded with delegates and prominent personages. More than 2,000 delegates have been registered.

A committee of 100 expert lobbyists was picked to work among the delegates and leaders of the Progressives and Republicans to obtain equal suffrage support.

REPUBLICAN NATIONAL COMMITTEE DISPOSES OF SIXTY-TWO CONTESTS

CHICAGO, June 5.—The Republican national committee adjourned at six o'clock tonight after disposing of sixty-two contests for seats in the Coliseum convention. During the last four hours of the four days session the most interesting decisions were made. They included these things:

Refusal to place on the temporary roll of the convention any members of the three contesting delegations from the District of Columbia.

Seating of both delegations from Louisiana, each member with half a vote and requesting the delegation to select Armand Romain of New Orleans, national committeeman in the place of Victor Lohisel.

Decision that the committee on resolutions be asked to receive delegations from the suffrage convention and conference and from preparedness organizations.

HUGHES SENTIMENT REACHES HIGH TIDE

Favorite Sons' Managers Fear They Cannot Control Movement

WANT T. R. IN CHICAGO

Old Guard Leaders Would Prefer to Deal With Colonel Roosevelt Directly

UNION WOULD BE ASSURED

Chicago, June 5.—Representatives of the several candidates for the Republican presidential nomination are in a perplexing predicament tonight. Having fostered sentiment in favor of Justice Hughes until they felt sure Colonel Roosevelt was definitely eliminated, they fear they cannot control the Hughes movement.

During the day it grew to the proportions of a boom. Effort is being made to concentrate all elements against it and the indications are that the vote of Progressive party which of course, means Colonel Roosevelt's disapproval of Hughes, may be brought as a check.

Harmony above everything else is the desire of the leaders. Without it any nominee would answer the purpose because it is recognized that unless the Republicans and Progressives get together their chances of success at the polls is very slim. To obtain harmony, the Republican leaders are willing to concede to Colonel Roosevelt the veto power in some form. Some of the leaders say he should be willing to select one or two men who would be acceptable to him from the list of candidates in the field. Others think he should suggest men for consideration by convention leaders and practically all of the party chiefs are willing to admit that any of the candidates definitely rejected by Colonel Roosevelt could not be nominated. Impartial observers within the Republican ranks do not consider that the unexpected growth of the Hughes boom is necessarily an indication of personal popularity of the justice among the delegates. Those who promoted it in opposition to what proved to be an exaggerated estimate of the expected demand for the nomination of Roosevelt were surprised at its growth. The individual candidates were working independently and therefore there was no canvass of the extent to which Hughes was the second choice of their supporters. This was found to be far more general than had been anticipated.

With the arrival of hundreds of delegates today the sentiment in favor of Hughes reached high tide and in spite of the concentration upon him of the opposition forces he appears to be far in the lead. Managers of the favorite son candidates have made no headway to combine against Hughes because he is the second choice of many instructed delegates and trading is dangerous. Every attempted transfer it is feared would result in spilling some delegates into the Hughes basket. Unless the situation changes very soon these delegates are almost certain to flop to him should there be more than two or three ballots without a nomination.

All thought of getting a pre-convention statement from Justice Hughes was abandoned during the day. The so-called smoking out processes were unsuccessful. Similar efforts were directed tonight against the Roosevelt people and a demand was made that the colonel either should come here and take part in the councils or place his spokesmen in a position where they could answer questions of the so-called allies as to what candidate or candidates would be acceptable to him to defeat Hughes. It was not believed that any of these demands would be met. Many of the Roosevelt adherents themselves believed the colonel should come to Chicago. His presence, they thought, would obviate all danger of the Progressive national convention getting beyond control. Strangely enough, the old guard leaders would welcome Colonel Roosevelt at this time, as they prefer to deal with him directly rather than thru representatives, and some of them argued that if he could be induced to some here a union of the Republicans and Progressives would be assured.

Efforts of the Progressive national committee today to fix a time for nominations in their convention resulted in conflicting statements of what actually had been agreed upon. On one hand, it was said that nomination would be deferred until Saturday and on the other hand, it was decided that such a delay had been agreed upon and that a nomination was possible not later than Thursday.

CONSIDER FEATURES OF G. O. P. PLATFORM

WILL MAKE STRONG FIGHT FOR SUFFRAGE INDORSEMENT

Lodge, Borah, Sutherland and Many Others in Senate and House Have Had Suggestions Under Consideration for Many Weeks—To Give Greatest Prominence to Americanism.

Chicago, June 5.—Altho the disposition among Republican leaders is to leave decision on the platform to the convention itself consideration was given today to outstanding features. The advance preparation that characterized other conventions has been lacking but Senators Lodge, Borah, Sutherland and many others in the senate and house have had suggestions under consideration for many weeks. These probably will form the basis for discussion in the committee on resolutions when it gets to work with the convention as the final judge. Every effort will be made in the platform, if the suggestions are followed, to incorporate some Progressive party ideas. A recall plank probably will not be approved by leaders in platform framing but a strong fight will be made for an indorsement of women's suffrage.

In what the three senators have done the first thought has been to give greatest prominence to Americanism. Senator Sutherland has gone so far as to suggest that this word should be used as a key to the whole superstructure, all other declarations being built around a ringing pronouncement in favor of American nationalism. His belief is that a satisfactory platform could be constructed on that principle and even the tariff plank could be made to fit into a declaration for Americanism only.

While not committing themselves entirely to this plan of procedure other platform builders support an out and out declaration for Nationalism. Some of them are inclined to the belief that this plan might result in too great restriction and thus exclude many necessary matters. Some are also getting away from the thought that the platform should be exceptionally brief. "We don't want to be uselessly prolific," said Senator Borah, soon after his arrival today, "but we cannot and must not overlook the fact that the Republican party is out of power and that being the case we owe it to the country to present a comprehensive statement of the basis of our appeal for support. If we had a republican president this record might be sufficient platform in itself. Not being thus situated we are called upon to say what we propose to do and incidentally to point out some of the mistakes of our opponents. We should not deny ourselves this opportunity in our desire to be epigrammatic."

As the draft stands it is at once a criticism of the Democratic management of foreign affairs as vacillating and unsatisfactory and a pronouncement in favor of the protection of the lives and property of American citizens at home and abroad.

The Democratic direction of affairs in connection with Mexico will be attacked with special severity as totally inadequate to the demands of the situation but no declaration for actual intervention in Mexico is contemplated now. An army and navy adequate to the protection of American interests will be advocated as the best means of preserving peace and protecting the national honor.

The tariff plank will include not only the usual Republican pronouncement in support of the principle of protection but in addition there will be an assertion of the inadequacy of the present tariff law to meet revenue demands. It will be asserted that but for the stimulus of the war, business in the United States would have suffered many hardships as the result of the Underwood-Simmons law while at the same time the treasury would have been continuously empty. Promise will be made of an immediate revision that will be to the advantage both of the National treasury and of private business. A tariff commission will be demanded in the interest of the stability and equality of the tariff.

Much attention is to be given to features of the platform which is believed will appeal to the progressive element and to the former members of the party who supported the candidacy of Colonel Roosevelt years ago. These do not include an endorsement of the recall, but they do embrace the subject of woman's suffrage. It is the belief of the framers of these provisions that the declaration along progressive lines should be so comprehensive and clear as to leave no ground for opposition on this score. The advocates of the suffrage provision expect a fight, but they say they have an equal chance to win.

Senator Lodge, it is conceded will be chairman of the resolu" is committee. He has filled this honor in previous sessions and his experience as well as his knowledge of legislation and of foreign and domestic affairs will greatly facilitate his work.

FIFTY-NINE DEAD IN ARKANSAS STORMS

Fear Later Reports Will Greatly Increase List of Dead and Injured

JUDSONIA SUFFERS MOST

One Third of Town is Said to Have Been Swept Away, 29 Are Dead and 50 Injured

18 DEAD AT HERBER SPRINGS

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., June 5.—Fifty nine persons have been reported dead and more than a hundred injured in a series of tornadoes that swept Arkansas this afternoon. All means of communication are crippled and it is feared the list of dead and injured will be greatly increased by later reports.

The dead thus far reported are as follows:

Judsonia, White county, 29 known dead and 59 injured.
Heber Springs, 18 dead.
De Lark, Dallas county, 4 dead.
Cabot, White county, 5 dead.
Hot Springs, 4 dead.
Morrliton, one dead.
Greenland, Washington county, two dead.

North Arkansas appears to have suffered most severely, altho the storm was general throught the state.

At Judsonia, one third of the town was said to have been swept away. The tornado swept clean an area four blocks wide and twelve blocks long. Twenty five bodies and fifty injured already had been taken from the ruins at 10 o'clock reports said. Judsonia is a town of 800 inhabitants about fifty miles northeast of Little Rock. The rescuers there toiling in the darkness intended to keep up their work all night.

Only the extreme southern and eastern portions of the state appears to have escaped entirely. From many towns come reports of persons being injured. From other towns that were reported in the track of one of the numerous tornadoes there is only silence. Wires are down and there is no method of ascertaining the fates of these little isolated hamlets.

In Pulaski county in which Little Rock is situated it is estimated that about forty persons were injured. Most of them were negroes and some will die.

The meagre reports indicate that the property damage throught the state will be enormous. The Iron Mountain railway sent a relief train to Judsonia late tonight.

One Dead Near Greenland

Fayetteville, Ark., June 5.—Mrs. Ed Wilson was killed here husband and two sons and Will Gabbert, a boy, were injured seriously in a tornado that swept an area half a mile wide near Greenland, Ark., this afternoon. At least eight other persons were reported to have been hurt.

Several Killed in White County

Memphis, Tenn., June 5.—A despatch to the Iron Mountain railroad office here tonight from Bald Knob, Ark., reported that several persons were killed and that considerable property damage was done in White county by a tornado which swept thru central Arkansas today. The town of Judsonia was reported badly damaged.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., June 5.

At least four persons were killed and half a dozen others seriously injured in a tornado which swept across Garland county late today and ploughed thru the southwest portion of the city almost in the path of the storm of last Thanksgiving. The electric light and power plant which supplies the city with light and with power for the street car system is incalculated and the city was without car service or lights.

Many houses were demolished. The dead:
T. Lee Parker, farmer.
Dock Parker, farmer.
Jim Brown, negro.
James H. Jordan, wood cutter.

An unusual feature in a public parade is to be seen in Chicago, when women students and graduates of the University of Michigan will march in the suffrage demonstration, in honor of the state university that was the first to open its doors to women on equal terms with men.

Fifty thousand families in New York City last year were aided by the city's half-dozen largest charitable societies, because of inability to maintain a satisfactory standard of living by their own efforts, according to the report of the committee on families of the Brooklyn bureau of charities. The committee finds that to maintain the standard family of five, including three children not of working age, requires an income of from $900 to $1000 a year in New York city, and estimates that from one-half to two-thirds of the families come short of that amount. And this is a time of unusual "prosperity."

Americanism
If the paramount political issue is to be "Americanism," how is it to be drawn sharply between the Republican and Democratic parties? asks the Springfield Republican. The "solid South" is the least "hyphenated" section of the United States. The German-Americans for many years have been 75 per cent Republican in politics. Compare "Jim" Mann's Americanism with John Williams', and note if the Chicago Republican has any advantage over the Mississippi Democrat. If a president is to be elected because he stands for Americanism, are the millions of citizens who will surely vote for the opposing candidates to be branded as aliens? Can a president who has been more bitterly denounced by half-hysterical sympathizers with European belligerents than any other president in a century be defeated for re-election on the ground that he represents European interests and ideals? Much nonsense seems to be in the air.

Begin School Affairs Anew.

The new board of education after a lengthy session Monday night elected H. Ambrose Perin of Lincoln superintendent of the Jacksonville schools. Immediately after the new members of the board of education were sworn into office they began to receive applications for the superintendency and to make some investigations. They were all impressed with Mr. Perin as a man and educator, his record was carefully investigated and found to be excellent, and his recommendations could not have been better. It is fortunate that thus early the board members have been able to agree upon a superintendent and to secure his services.

Rippling Rhymes By WALT MASON

JUNE DAYS

"O, what is so smooth as a day in June?" Then, if ever, are fussy days! So the poet sang, with his lyre in tune, and the subject duly in mind, served his praise. For a day in June is the slickest thing that ever the gods designed, and the man who doesn't then smile and sing has barnacles on his mind. Then the coltkins play and the calkins romp, and gamboling are the lambs, and the bull frogs foot in the lonely swamp, all happy as pickled clams. Then the grass is green and the sky is blue, as blue as the haws allow, and the blossoms gleam in the morning dew like gems on a damsel's brow. Man's bosom throbs with abounding life, he ceases to fear and fret, and he remarks to his smiling wife, "This world is the one best bet." It is the time of the blushing bride, the time of the graduate, and Man, he tosses his grouch aside, and sees that his smile's on straight.

Miss Annie Corrigan and John Corrigan of New Berlin spent Sunday with friends here. John Kunkle was a Jacksonville visitor Sunday. Henry Ruble has returned to his home after a visit of several days in Chicago. G. W. Foster was a Springfield visitor Sunday. Walter Oddy spent the day Sunday with Jacksonville friends.

CHARGED WITH BEATING BOARD BILL.
T. E. Burnett on Saturday swore out a warrant before police magistrate J. B. Roach at Waverly for O. Wilson charging him with obtaining money under false pretenses and board and bed. Wilson was brought to Jacksonville by Deputy Sheriff George L. Kimber and Monday morning was arraigned before Justice Dyer. The court placed his bond at $10 and in default of the same he was sent to jail.

ROW AT FRANKLIN RESULTS IN DEATH OF JOHN R. SARGENT

Ernest Dyer Held For Assault Which Caused The Death—Man Was Found Dead Sunday Morning—Coroner's Inquest Held.

John Roy Sargent of Franklin is dead and Ernest Dyer a farm hand is under $500 bond to await the action of the grand jury as the result of a fight at Franklin late Saturday night. According to the testimony given before the coroner's jury Sunday Sargent had been drinking and became engaged in an altercation with Dyer thru an argument that was going on between Earl Rector and Curtis Busch. According to the testimony Sargent struck Dyer and knocked him off of the walk. Dyer stepped back on the walk and hit Sargent, knocking him down. Sargent's head struck the concrete walk causing a fracture of the skull and causing a hemorrhage of the meningeal artery. He was found dead in bed Sunday morning.

After the trouble Dyer was taken to the residence of Burley Keyes. According to Keyes he was placed on a couch and given no further attention. Keyes left the house Sunday morning and went down town to get something to eat. He returned to the house and on examination found that Sargent was dead. Keyes in his testimony said that Sargent had been under the influence of liquor at his home before. After the trouble Dyer walked away and went home. He did not know that Sargent was dead until he was placed under arrest by Sheriff Gaff Sunday. He was brought to this city and his bond was signed by Ernest Ransdell. Dyer is in the employ of the Pisgah Elevator Company and lives at the Rector home. Dyer's hearing is set before Justice W. T. Dyer at 1 o'clock Saturday, June 10.

Coroner Notified
When it was found that Sargent was dead Dr. J. M. Linder was called. His testimony showed that he saw the body of Sargent between 9 and 10 o'clock Sunday morning. He recommended a post mortem. Coroner Wright was notified and Dr. F. A. Norris of this city was summoned. Dr. Norris assisted by Dr. Elder made the post mortem.

Dr. Norris' testimony was that he found a depression in the scalp tissue on the right side of the head about two inches behind the right ear and three inches above, about the size of a half dollar. The subsequent examination revealed a fracture starting three inches above the right ear and extending downward and one inch in front of the ear. The removal of the skull showed an extensive hemorrhage from the middle meningeal artery the size of the palm of the hand. In response to a question as to whether prompt medical attention would have saved Sargent Dr. Norris said "I hardly think it could have been recognized in time to give relief as it was so rapid and hemorrhage so extensive." The testimony of Dr. J. M. Elder who assisted Dr. Norris in the post mortem was substantially the same as that of Dr. Norris.

The testimony of Clem Jones was to the effect that he found Sargent sitting in the doorway of an empty building about 11:30 o'clock Saturday night. Jones testified that Sargent had been drinking and asked him to take him (Sargent) to the home of Burley Keyes. He took Sargent there. Witness said Sargent did not say anything about having had any trouble.

Curtis Busch with whom Rector was having the trouble when Dyer struck Sargent said he saw Sargent at Teaney's restaurant when Rector invited him outside. Witness said he walked outside with Rector and that Rector took him by the arm. He jerked loose and Sargent who was sitting near said he would not take that. Dyer told him to keep out of the argument and Sargent came toward him. Dyer backed off of the walk and then hit Sargent, knocking him down. Witness said he walked away while Sargent was lying on the sidewalk.

Tells of Beginning of Trouble
Richard Hembrigh testified that he saw Sargent in Teaney's restaurant about 11 o'clock Saturday night and that he seemed drunk. Later saw him outside of the building and heard him tell Ernest Dyer no ... could slap him around like that. Dyer told him to be quiet and behave as he did not want to have any trouble. Sargent then got up and hit Dyer and Dyer hit him back and his head struck the walk. Dyer then walked across the park and Clem Jones came along and placed Sargent in the doorway of an empty building. Witness said he thought Sargent was killed when his head hit the walk.

Ernest Dyer in his testimony told of the trouble between Rector and Busch and that Sargent seemed to want to take it up. Dyer said that Sargent called them a name and started toward Rector. I told him to keep quiet. Witness said Sargent mumbled something he could not understand and struck him in the chest, knocking him from the walk. Witness said he stepped back on the walk and struck Sargent knocking him down. Witness said he did not want to have any further trouble and walked across the park and went home.

Burley Keyes said Clem Jones brought Sargent to his residence about 12 o'clock Saturday night telling him that Sargent had had some trouble up town and had asked to be brought there. Keyes said he placed Sargent on a couch and that his eye was swollen shut and his face swelled. He did not say anything that witness could understand. Witness said he went up town Sunday morning to get something to eat. When he returned he examined Sargent and found he was dead.

Earl Rector who was with Dyer at the time of the trouble was also examined. He substantiated what Dyer said as to the trouble between himself and Busch and the trouble that followed between Dyer and Sargent.

They have arrangements by which they can make a comfortable bed in the car and cover it with a large tarpaulin in case of rain. So far they have not been much troubled by bad weather and have only been obliged to seek the shelter of a hotel two nights enroute. They are much pleased with their method of traveling and while brown from exposure have fine appetites and are in excellent spirits.

ial club, a member of the directors' cabinet of the bureau of social service, and has been associated with other organizations tending toward the betterment of the community. He and Mrs. Perrin are members of the Methodist church.

To Move Here Soon.

Supt. Perrin will remain in Jacksonville today on various matters connected with the superintendency and as soon as possible will make arrangements to bring his family to Jacksonville. It is understood that on account of the work connected with the schools this summer that he will cancel his engagement at the state normal university. The salary of $2,100 with which Supt. Perrin was elected is only $100 more than he is receiving at Lincoln, but he presumably preferred to change to a large city, one with greater possibilities. In Jacksonville he will not be among strangers, as both he and his wife are known to quite a number of people and they also have friends and relatives in Pike county.

The selection of the superintendent was by unanimous vote, and the board members are of one accord in the belief that they have been very fortunate in their choice. There are so many school matters needing attention, about which the board does not feel quite qualified to act without the advice of a superintendent, that the members were anxious to make an appointment early if a satisfactory man could be agreed upon, and it was, therefore, a source of gratification to all of them to decide the question so quickly.

Supt. Perrin's preparation, experience, recommendations and personality impressed them all favorably and so the early decision was made possible.

Grade Teachers Appointed

The board of education held a regular meeting Monday night and after appointing teachers for the grade positions in the public schools, went into executive session to consider superintendency applications. The following teachers were appointed:

Jefferson school—Clara Cobb, Louise Mansfield, Jessie Yeck, Margaret English, Rose Loneragan, Mary Shannon, Mary Atkinson, Beatrice Phillips, Helen Earney.

Independence school—Marie Mayer.

Lafayette school—Agnes Paxton, Lillian Sheehan, Helen Leck, Elizabeth Hackman, Ida Mills, Edna Wardhaugh, Florence Spink, Elie Pyatt, Ethelyn Andrews, Amy Pires, Lena Hopper.

Franklin school—Edith Dunlap, Edith Johnson, Lillian Carter, Florence Fox, Mary Clampt, Clara Russell, Maude Brown, Marie Thompson, Gladys Uzzell.

Washington school—Laura White, Hattie E. Lander, Anna Tendick, Edna L. Cox, Verna Smith, Anna Long, Esther Laurie, Anna Hopper, Harriet Siebert, Mary Riley, Lois Hayden.

Morton school—Elizabeth Higler, Sallie Stacy, Gussie Duffner, Laura Young.

Open Air school—Laura Hammond, Ruth Peak, Bessie Riggs.

The board determined upon this action in order to let the grade teachers know just as soon as possible about next year's work. The teachers were appointed without reference to principalships and salaries were not stated. The board is not in condition to fix salaries until after a thorough understanding is had about finances. Before adjournment was taken a motion was made by Dr. Duncan, with a second by Mr. Metcalf, that the finance committee be requested to furnish the board within two weeks' time a complete statement as to school expenditures last year, together with facts about the present financial condition and what funds may be expected.

Permanent Committees Named

For members of permanent committees President Lippincott made the following appointments:

Finance—Members Rogerson, Rapp, Muehlhausen, Duncan, and Black.

Building and grounds—Members Hopper, Brockman, Pierson, Muehlhausen and Metcalf.

A petition was read from students asking for the reappointment of Mr. Goodrick as band master. No action was taken, as was true with other petitions. President Lippincott displayed a sack full of them. The president also reported the receipt of an anonymous letter from a teacher in the city schools in which the writer called attention to the fact that the teacher's salary must be divided by twelve months instead of nine. Sae went on to say that teachers must spend the greater part of their vacation months in preparation for the work of the succeeding school year.

Dr. Black made a motion that all matters pertaining to finance and teachers' salaries be postponed until the treasurer's report was received, as well as the report from the finance committee. Dr. Black also made a motion that the report of the committee on teachers be received and placed on file. Dr. Duncan suggested that a vote be taken on each appointment so that all members could advisedly express their views and all teachers would know that all members of the board voted for their election. This motion was made, with a second by Mr. Rapp, and was carried. Then all balloted on the lists and the teachers were elected by unanimous vote.

Mr. Rogerson, with a second by Mr. Muehlhausen, made a motion that it be the order of the board that Miss Laura White be principal of the David Prince school. A number of members suggested that in view of the board's previous decision that appointments were to be made simply of teachers without reference to the positions they were to fill, that it would not be proper to make an exception in this case. Members who expressed themselves as favorable to the plan did not believe that it should be voted upon at that meeting. Mr. Rogerson, therefore, withdrew his motion. It was brought to the attention of the board that the diplomas of this year's high school graduates had not been signed, because no legally elected board was in office at the commencement time, and the president and secretary were authorized to give the necessary signatures.

Mrs. Pierson asked about payments on teachers' pensions and the president said that under the law such payments are to be paid to the secretary and by her forwarded to the state treasurer. Mrs. Pierson mentioned one teacher who was very anxious about her salary because of her desire to attend normal school if it is the board's intention to follow the salary schedule adopted by the previous board. Mr. Metcalf said that a number of teachers had talked to him on the same matter and he was fully of the opinion that the board could take no action in this regard until a thorough understanding was had about finances. The board again went on record as being unable to fix salaries until after a report from the finance committee is available.

JUSTICE HUGHES PRESENTS FLAG TO YOUNG WOMEN GRADUATES

Tells Young Women Emblem Means America First, an Undivided Allegiance and a Nation United and Equal to Its Tasks.

Washington, June 5.—In the seclusion of the national cathedral school lawn, where he was presenting an American flag to the honor graduates, Justice Charles E. Hughes today made his first public address since the opening of the pre-convention campaign. He told the young women graduates that the flag meant America first, an undivided allegiance, and a nation united and equal to its tasks.

"This flag means more than association and reward," said Justice. "It is the symbol of our national unity, our national endeavor, of our national aspiration. It tells you of the struggle for independence, of union preserved, of liberty and union one and inseparable, of the sacrifices of brave men and women to whom the ideals and honor of this nation have been dearer than life."

"It means America first; it means an undivided allegiance. It means American united, strong, and efficient, equal to her tasks. It means that you cannot be saved by the valor and devotion of your ancestors; that to each generation comes its patriotic duty, and that upon your willingness to sacrifice and endure, as those before you have sacrificed and endured rests the national hope."

ENTIRE DEMOCRATIC TICKET IS NAMED AT JUDICIAL ELECTION

CHICAGO, June 5.—The entire Democratic ticket was elected by a substantial majority at today's judicial election. The bridge bond issue of more than $5,000,000 and the electric light extension bond issue carried. The bond issue for a new county jail failed.

Miss Tekla Huber of Denver, Colo., is in the city for an extended visit with her cousin, Mrs. Anton Graef, of West College avenue. Miss Julia Hodaft of White Hall is also a guest at the Graef home.

John W. Turner of the local Salvation Army made a visit to Capt. Curtis of the Springfield corps Saturday and Sunday and he addressed three meetings of the army there which were well attended.

IOWA REPUBLICANS NAME HARDING FOR CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR

Harding is Believed to Have Sufficient Lead to Insure His Nomination Without Recourse to State Convention.

BULLETIN.

DES MOINES, Iowa, June 6.—Anti-suffrage leaders at 1 a. m., declared that their figures showed a majority of approximately 1,000 against suffrage with about a third of the 2297 precincts in the state heard from. In the absence of official returns there was no confirmation of the report.

Des Moines, Iowa, June 5.—William L. Harding of Sioux City, was the choice of the Republican voters of the state for the candidate for governor according to returns tonight.

It was admitted that late returns might upset the totals but Harding was believed to have sufficient lead to insure his nomination without recourse to the Republican state convention which meets in July. Thirty five per cent of the total vote is necessary to nominate.

Senator Joseph Allen of Pocahontas and George Cosson of Audobon were running neck and neck at 11 o'clock tonight for second place on the ticket. The race between the two was so close that it was impossible to forecast the final outcome. Kuehnle was a bad third. Returns were coming so slowly as to indicate that the final outcome may not be known for several days.

It seemed possible that the suffrage amendment would be adopted. Harding's supporters here are claiming a majority of fifty per cent of the total state vote for their candidate. Allen and Cosson supporters refuse to admit defeat but it is believed that they will stand little show when the returns from unreported sections are known.

Y. M. C. A. BOYS WRITE ABOUT LIFE AT CAMP MANTANZAS

Each Day Now Is Crowded with Pleasant Doings.

Camp Mantanzas, June 4.—Here is the story of yesterday's day in camp:

Sunday, 7.—Whistle blew so everybody had to crawl out of the hay. Perun Brew allowed an extra hour of sleep, inasmuch as it was Sunday.

8.—Breakfast. Night Owl is scheduled for another slaperatus for singing at the table.

8:30.—Round Table.

8:45.—Clean up cottage and blankets spread on the grass in the sun.

9:30.—Puddin' Wilkinson and Beany Winchester hove into camp with a nice juicy roast and other supplies. They had been back to Jacksonville for Saturday.

11.—Morning services. Order of service Song—Prayer—Song—Harp solo, Jackson; Solo, Curley Reeve—Discussion on the Book of Jonah led by Brew. Song for closing.

1:15.—Dinner. A hearty vote of thanks was given Jackson, the cook, when the roast beef, brown potatoes, creamed peas and all the trimmings, including tice pudding, was put on the table. Fat Smith and Fritz Capps had to be pulled away from the table. Fat Smith is almost big enough to wear Night Hawk's trousers.

2:30.—Mr. Harry Starkweather brought fifteen young ladies up from Havana in his launch and they stopped at the Elsinor about an hour and paid the camp a visit. Music and more music was on the program. Certain members of the camp seemed especially pleased at this visit and it is rumored that several of them went down to the train in the late afternoon to see the young ladies off.

3 to 5.—Visitors called from several of the cottages. The campers busied themselves by hiking thru the woods, picking flowers, etc.

One thing that attracted the attention of visitors was the beautiful assortment of wood flowers that were arrayed in bouquets in the cottage. Henhouse Struck and Perch Headen are responsible for this, as they are the flower committee.

9:30.—Every fellow is tired and all vote to crawl in the hay pile.

9:45.—Noise heard on the front porch like some shifting the oars in a row boat. Perun Brew was up to see what the commotion was, only to discover Night Hawk Reck's feet out from under the cover and he was fighting a skelter with them in his sleep.

Monday, 5:30.—Reck is busy getting the sleepheads up to get some firewood. Puddin' Wilkinson and Chila Bartlett are surely brought out of the trance and got up. Slim Blackett takes off two pounds of weight chopping wood.

6.—Fritz Capps and Fat Smith go after milk.

7.—Breakfast. Oatmeal; Benson only got one cup of rolled oats and he nearly fainted by noon.

8.—Round Table.

8:30.—Night Hawk Reck brings forth the famous slaperatus and so many were slated for it that he broke the famous paddle to pieces. Perch Headen had to take the chizamalee and Possum Summers, Chilt Bartlett, Night Owl Reeve, Oatmeal Ranson and Fat Smith had to be thrown in the lake.

9.—All fishing crews embarked for a fishing trip. Henhouse Struck caught a nice catfish, Fat Smith landed a nice black bass and Mulligan Reck discovered a swarm of bees in the willows in the slough.

10:30.—All the campers on the

Of this sum the assessment against the Jacksonville Railway & Light company is $8,377 and against private property owners $14,834. The estimate as prepared by Public Engineer E. M. Henderson, calls for 13,121 yards of tarvia at 95c, $12,464.95c, 3,338.6 yards brick and concrete for railway right of way, $7,178; 1,420 yards concrete, $852.57; 900 yards of sandstone curbing, $540; court costs, etc., $1,313.48.

For East State street the total cost for the tarvia pavement is figured at $11,052.57, of which sum $4,316 is the street railway's proportion. "FAKE REMEDIES" ADVERTISED

No doubt some of the medicines advertised are fakes, but these never have any lasting success. They stand in striking contrast to the good old standard, dependable remedies, like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which has stood the test of time and for more than forty years has been alleviating the suffering of womankind. Such medicines are a blessing to the community and will continue their good work from one generation to another.—Adv.

L. W. C. BACCALAUREATE AT CENTENARY M. E. CHURCH

Dr. Jesse S. Dancy of Chicago Heard in Strong Address—Pres. Harker Gives Admonition to the Class.

Baccalaureate services for Illinois Woman's college were held Sunday forenoon at Centenary M. E. church, with the Rev. Jesse S. Dancy, D. D., of Chicago, as the speaker of the morning. Dr. Dancy is pastor of the First Methodist church of Englewood, and is a speaker of considerable power. The congregations of Grace, Brooklyn and Centenary Methodist churches united for the service, and the three pastors had place on the platform and took a part in the baccalaureate program. Weather conditions were all that could be asked for and this fact contributed much to the success of the service.

The opening prelude, "Torchlight March in F" by Guilman, was given by Miss Myrtle Larimore, who played as the organ postlude, "Toccata in D" by Kinder. Mrs. Florence P. Hartmann and Miss Rena M. Lazelle gave a duet number "Thou Art, O God, My Light and Life," by Mozart. Mrs. Hartmann gave as a solo "My Heart Ever Faithful." The Rev. G. W. Flagg, pastor of Centenary church gave the opening prayer, and the Rev. Frederic B. Madden, pastor of Grace church led in the responsive reading. Dr. Joseph R. Harker, president of the college, read the scripture, and at the close of the service, delivered his annual address to the graduates. The benediction was pronounced by the Rev. W. W. Theobald, pastor of Brooklyn church. Dr. Dancy took as his text the parable of the rich man and Lazarus, and delivered an address which was tinged thruout with deep spiritual truth. At the close of the address Dr. Harker spoke to the class as follows:

The President's Address.

"Young Women of the Class of 1916: I prize very highly the privilege of saying the last words to you in your college course, and yet I believe that each year brings to me a deeper sense of the responsibility which this privilege involves. The last words are likely to be the words most frequently and longest remembered. They should therefore be most carefully chosen, and should express our deepest convictions and our highest aspirations.

"In the choice of what I shall say to you this morning, I have asked myself this question: If these young women should ask you to tell them in a few brief sentences your chief concern for them, and your highest hopes for their life and conduct in the days to come, what would you say?

"I would admit that deep in my heart I sometimes fear that, in the stress of college life, in the many courses of study, the increasing organizations, the exacting demands of multiplying duties, we may seem to put the main emphasis on things that are not after all of the supreme importance. We magnify scholarship. We insist, and rightly too, on knowing that your elementary education, and your work in the grades has been faithfully done. We examine with care the work of your high school or academy course, and demand evidence of four years of faithful work, showing unquestioned ability. All this in order to be even admitted to college. And then for four years more, we magnify scholarship, intellectual ability, urging you forward, beckoning you higher, and seeking in every way to enable you to enter with appreciation and enjoyment into every department of human interest. We honor high scholarship, and we magnify and exalt high intellectual attainments.

"And yet, speaking to you my sincerest word at the end of your college course, I must tell you that the attainment of the highest scholarship is not our highest hope for you.

The Best Gifts.

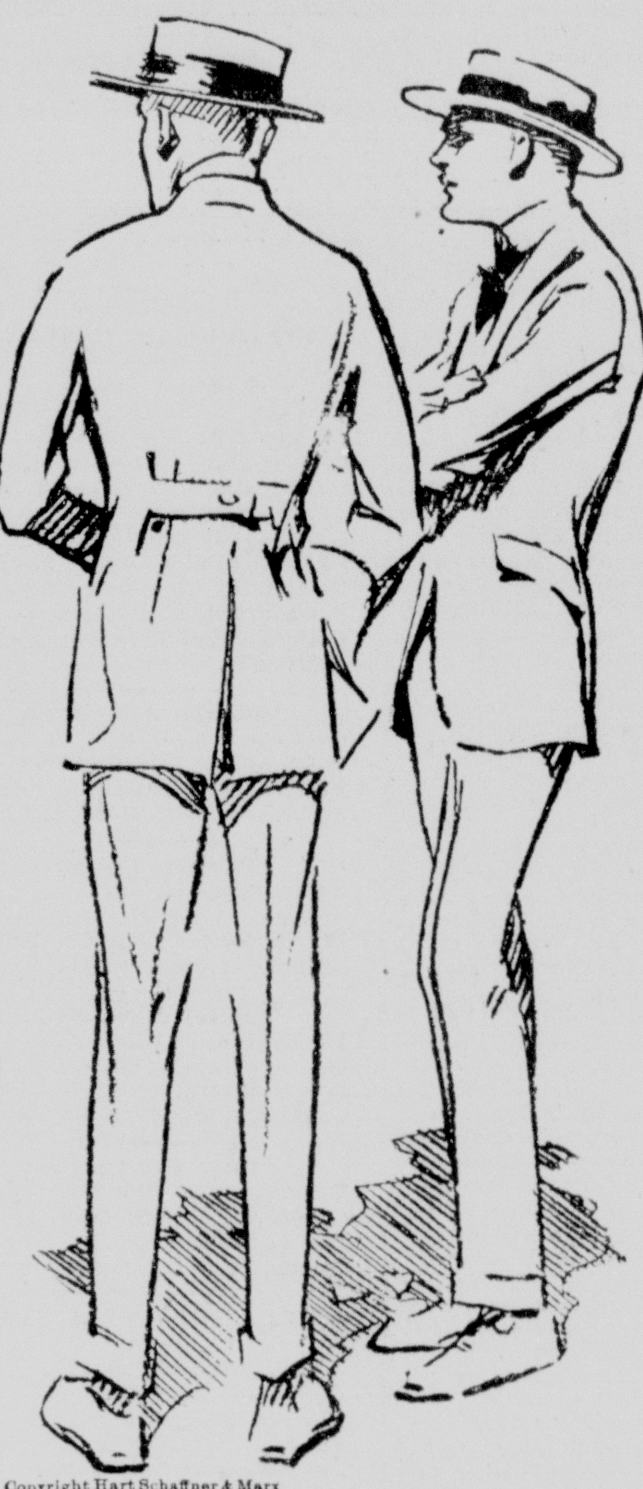

"The college has constantly emphasized efficiency. We have sought to train you to do things; to cultivate energy, a ready and prompt response to that duty. We have tried to develop that rare and high priced quality which we call initiative. Every day we have sought to discover in you, and to cause to grow, whatever we could find of vision, the ability to see what needs to be done, and of attack, and of persistence, and of leadership. And it is a great satisfaction for us to know how well we have succeeded. You are able to do things, to attack problems, ready and able and anxious as I like to think, to do any womanly thing anywhere.

"And yet, when I come as I do here to say my last word to you, I must tell you also that the initiative and ability and efficiency do not express our highest desire for you. Scholarship, literary appreciation and taste, great learning, scientific understanding, ability to think clearly, vision, initiative, energy, efficiency, genius for leadership and success in doing things—these are all great gifts, and greatly worth all the time and cost of college training. But these are not, and must not be, your ultimate aim.

"No, no. You may speak with the tongues of men and of angels, you may understand all mysteries and all knowledge, you may lead in the greatest reforms of history, you may have the ability to do many wonderful works, and yet you may be sounding brass, tinkling cymbals, it may profit you nothing, you may be—nothing.

"The best gifts you have coveted earnestly and secured. But you know it is no new word when I tell you that beyond all 'gifts' is that 'love divine' which fills our lives, takes possession of them, transforming them, and which makes all gifts and graces effective. To crown your scholarship and your increasing efficiency, you will bear me witness that we have never failed, thru all your college course, to seek, more earnestly than anything else, that you might comprehend with all saints the length and breadth and height, and that you might know the love of Christ, which far exceeds all knowledge and all efficiency.

God's Greatest Gift.

"This is God's greatest gift. And this is our highest hope, that your educated facilities and your trained abilities may be vitalized and controlled by that love of which Christ is not only the supreme illustration, but the source; that love which 'seeketh not her own,' and which 'never faileth.'

"Just one word more. How can you express this love? Only by sacrifice of self. Take the alabaster box of precious ointment, your educated womanhood and your trained abilities, and break it in utter abandon of self, in absolute forgetfulness of self interest, so that his blessed fragrance may fill all the house or all the community wherever you may be. We send you now from the college back into the home, and into your social circle, your church, and your community. They are wondering what college has done for you. Make them understand that it is greatly worth while for a woman to go to college, not only in that it makes her a scholar, and an efficient worker but more because it enlarges her sympathies, fills her with the Christian motives, and increases her ability and willingness to serve. Let them all see that you have come back, not to demand what you can get, but only to ask what and where you can give.

"You are looking anxiously into the future. I am not a prophet, and cannot tell you what is to be your future lot or work. But I can tell you this on the highest authority: 'Those that will be great among you will be those that hold themselves as servants; and the one that will be the greatest among you will be the bond slave of everybody.' 'Your highest success will always be in closest imitation of Him who came 'not to be served, but to serve, and to sell Himself for the redemption of others.'

JACKSONVILLE TRIMS SCHAFFER SEALS

DEFEAT SPRINGFIELD TEAM BY SCORE OF 5 TO 2

Game Was Hard Fought Thruout—Stoker, Late of Three-Eye League, Plays Third for Visitors—Stewart and Fernandez Make Two Hits and Piller Three Bases Each.

Jacksonville trimmed the Schafer Seals at Nichols Park Sunday afternoon by a score of 5 to 2. Both teams fought hard for victory and it was anybody's game for eight innings. It was a good game despite the errors and the erratic fielding kept the result in doubt and also furnished thrills for the spectators. Had the playing been perfect the score would have been 2 to 0 in favor of Jacksonville.

The visitors came down reinforced for the occasion, having Stoker of Ashland playing at third base. Stoker has been with Rock Island in the Three Eye League until a few days ago when he was let out to make room for an old timer. We have as yet been unable to figure why he was released as he was fielding his position in good shape and getting his hits right along.

Stoker is a dangerous hitter but White had his number yesterday. Several times he had chances to break the game up but he failed, but both players and spectators breathed easier when he was out of the way. Stoker, however, more than atoned for his failure to hit by his fielding. He had a busy day at third, accepting seven chances without an error. Heads also played a good game at short. Dunham who appeared at second in place of Kiley got two of the visitors five hits.

For the locals White pitched a good game, being especially strong in the pinches. He got in the hole several times but managed to get away. He was given brilliant support by Clark who grabbed several that under ordinary conditions would have been wild pitches. Denny also played a good game at the keystone station. The outfielders had, but little to do, only two fly's being caught in the outfield by the Seals and three by the locals. Fred Stewart and Fernandez did the hitting for the locals and both ran wild on the bases, having three plfers each.

How the Runs Were Made
The locals broke the ice in the first. Fernandez singled with one down, stole second, went to third on a fielders' choice and scored on an error. The visitors came right back in the second and got one run to the good and incidentally made their only runs of the game. With one down Rebok hit for two bases and took third on Dunham's single. Heads filed to DeFrates. White then walked Ford filling the bases. He then uncorked a wild pitch and Rebok scored. Clark pegged wild to White at the pan and Dunham counted.

Things were quiet until the fourth when Jacksonville added two runs. DeFrates walked and took second on Clark's infield hit. Both advanced on Stewart's sacrifice. Dunham dropped McCue's throw at first and Stewart was safe. DeFrates scoring on the error, Clark taking third. McCollister then "squeezed" Clark over.

The last two runs came in the eighth. Fernandez first up singled and stole second and third. Clark walked and stole second. Stewart hit a line drive that nearly knocked Rebok's mitt off and Fernandez scored. Clark going to third. McCollister singled and Clark scored. The score:

Indees Walloped Springfield Rivals in Easy Fashion Sunday
The Independents walloped the Springfield Rivals Sunday afternoon by a score of 7 to 1. The Independents had two new faces in the lineup, Kiley at second and Tate in left field. Both men played a star game and each figured in the run getting as well as the defensive work of the team.

Richardson behind the bat also had a good day. He cut down four base runners besides picking a man off at first. He also got two safeties and made a run.

Patrick pitched a good game for the independents allowing but four safeties. He walked three men and hit one batter. Patrick was never in trouble and but for miscues by his support in the fourth would have blanked the visitors.

The Indies hit the ball hard. They got eleven hits off of Sharafin in the seven innings he worked, driving him from the mound in the seventh. Four of the hits were for extra bases and netted seven runs. Singles by Simms and Tate and a double by Smith gave them two runs in the second. Simms' double and Richardson's single scored one in the sixth. In the seventh a single by Smith, Simms' sacrifice, doubles by Richardson and Anders and singles by Wheeler and Kiley drove Sharafin to cover and netted four runs. Hood then went to the mound and stopped the scoring.

SPOILED THE TABLEAU.

A Brilliant Scheme That Didn't Work Out Exactly Right.

"My least boy, Bearcat, showed off some at the cantata in the schoolhouse last night," related Mr. Gap Johnson of Rumpus Ridge. "Amongst other things they perpetrated a tableau called 'Empty Is the Cradle; Baby's Gone'."

"They had a cradle on the platform, and Bearcat, all trimmed up in a white robe with wings on the back, was lying in it with a belt around his waist under the gown and a wire running over a hook in the ceiling and out through a hole in the window pane. The Glee club was going to get off the song, and at the proper moment a bunch of boys outside would pull the wire and haul Bearcat up, and, per-doo-in', it was estimated, a solemn and moving spectacle.

"But they wanted to have the tableau along towards the last, and as the platform was small and they didn't have any scenery they put Bearcat in the cradle and set 'em back of the teacher's desk before the crowd came. He is only four years old, and nacherl' enough he fell asleep, and when the Glee club turned loose it didn't wake him. The first thing he knew he was climbing heavenward out of a dream with something pulling at him.

"Forgetting where he was, he gave a yell and grabbed the cradle. Up they went, Bearcat, cradle and all. The load was heavier than the boys outside expected, and they buckled to it right ably. So when the kid dropped the cradle about three-quarters of the way up the reaction caused the boys to yank him against the ceiling with a fury that like to have busted the poor little feller's crust.

"You never heard such bellowing out of a four-year-old in all your life! Although he's my boy, I had no idee he was half so duent!"—Tom P. Morgan in Judge.

Thrift.

Thrift does not come at our beck and call, nor can it be slipped on or off like an old coat. It is established by practice rather than theory, by example more than by precept.—Theodore Roosevelt.

A Painful Inference.

A teacher was instructing a class of boys and had spent half an hour trying to drive into their heads the difference between man and the lower animals, but apparently with little success.

"Tommy," he said coaxingly to a little chap, "do you know the difference between, say, me and a pig or any other brute?"

"No," replied Tommy innocently, but another teacher standing by laughed.—London Answers.

He Worried the Judge.

A story used to be told of the elder Judge Peckham, father of the supreme court justice. In the early days of dentistry a hickory plug was put into the cavity to fill the space where a tooth ought to be. This plug had to be gently pounded into its desired position. The old judge was somewhat addicted to strong language, and when the dentist began his work the judge indulged in some classic comment. As the tapping of the plug continued he threw all dignity to the four winds of heaven and his language became decidedly "more forcible than elegant." When, however, he arose from the chair after what seemed to him an interminable period of agony he pulled out all the stops in his vocabulary for a grand climax. The impression on his listener seems to have been deep and lasting. As the judge passed out the dentist grimly remarked to a waiting patient: "Wasn't it beautiful? It wasn't really necessary to pound half so long, but I did so enjoy his indeliction that I almost pounded the hickory plug into splinters. Wonderful command of language the judge has!"

Caught the Senator.

When Dr. Edward Everett Hale was chaplain of the senate he once asked a certain senator with a good deal of solicitation if he was a church member. The senator was glad to be able to say that he was. Two or three days later, according to the story, Dr. Hale resorted to the subject and asked the name of the church. The senator gave a name. Two or three days later again Dr. Hale remarked to the senator with regret that he had looked up that church and that he was sorry to find that it had been burned down twelve years before and never rebuilt.

SPECULATIVE OPERATIONS IN MOTORS ARE RESUMED

Huge M'ger of Several Prominent Companies Contribute to Further Substantial Gains and New Maximums.

New York, June 5.—Speculative operations in motors were resumed on an enlarged scale today upon publication of additional details connected with the huge merger of several prominent companies contributing measurably to further substantial gains and new maximums. Among the high records scored during the session some of which were largely if not wholly surrendered before the close were Willys-Overland, which rose fifteen points to 325, with 5% to 117 for the preferred; Chandler Motors 11 to 131; General Motors, 11 to 560; and Lee Rubber 2% to 56%.

Interest in shipping shares was revived under the guidance of mercantile marines preferred. Sugars were again benefitted by a steady inquiry.

After the spurt in these Mercantile stocks had run its course, trading shifted to copper and zinc issues, Mexicans and fertilizers, finally embracing the old war contract favorites.

Rails were doubtless checked by the character of the General trading, but even in that division a strong undertone was manifested for a time.

International issues, including the war bonds of the entente allies, were decidedly firm on the latter advice dealing with the recent naval engagement.

General firmness attended the restricted dealings in bonds, with total sales par value of $2,620,000.

MARKING THE MAN

Origin of Surnames in the Good Old Days of Long Ago.

MANY SOURCES OF SUPPLY.

When Trades and Callings Were Exhausted Then Places and Events or Objects and Personal Characteristics Were Pressed Into Service.

It cannot but be admitted that considerable food for thoughtful reflection is offered in the study of the origin of names. It was all very well when the world was young; but, as a writer says, "As the population increased and communication became possible and easier the supply of single names was not equal to the demand, and people began to get individuals bearing the same name mixed. It was at this time that the surname was thought of and adopted, so that families might be distinguished one from the other."

Trades and callings are in this day represented in the names of Baker, Carver, Shoemaker, Tyler, Chandler, Mason, Cutler, Carter, Saddler, Slater, Hooper, Cheeseman, Turner, Fletcher, Cooper, Glider, Mercer, Skinner, Coleman, Sawyer, Tanner, Spicer, Cook, Tutor, Miner, Driver, Weaver, Gardner, Archer, Merchant, Porter, Walnwright, Taylor, Shepherd, Glover and ever so many others.

Says Clifford Howard, who has devoted himself to this pleasant study:

"Such names as Hall, Stair, Garret, Kitchen and Chambers also record the occupations of our forefathers, who in these cases were engaged in the households of the nobility and had charge of such apartments as the names indicate. Others held higher offices, and from them we have the surnames Page, Butler, Procter, Forester, Steward, Bailly, Fowler, and Woodward and Hayward, the keepers, respectively, of the forest and the cattle."

In other localities it was usual to point out an individual by the place of his birth or residence, a custom which resulted in the adoption of such surnames as French, Scott, Welsh, English, Dan, Burgoyne, Cornish and Cornwallis, Kent, York, Chichester, Lincoln, Wells, Washington, Putnam, Hurst, Buchanan, Preston and Bancroft. A great many of this sort were originally the names of baronial estates, which names the barons adopted as surnames.

Those who were not of such high estate were forced to content themselves with humbler titles. Thus John, who lived by the brook, became John Brook, and David, who lived by a giant oak, was called David Tree.

Richard, who lived at the end of town, became Richard Townsend, while his brother, who lived under the brow of a hill, became known as Peter Underwood. Those who lived near the water took the name of Atwater.

At the time family names began to be used the shops of the merchants were not numbered as they are now, but were known by their signs, which were suspended at the front doors and bore pictures of all sorts of animals, vegetables, birds, flowers, fishes and insects. It was customary to speak of an innkeeper, then, as John of the Bear, or Dick of the Swan, and, as may be readily understood, these names were soon converted into Bear, Hogg, Hart, Bull, Fox, Wolf, Colt, Hare, Beaver, Lyon, Swan, Peacock, Heron, Dove, Partridge, Cock, Finch, Hawk, Crane and Drake, as well as Burt, Chubb, Haddock, Herring, Pike, Perch and others. From vegetables, trees, fruits and flowers we have Bean, Broome, Clover, Birch, Ash, Hawthorne, Hazel, Peach, Flower, Nettle, Vine, Plant, Budd, Branch and Root, besides dozens more.

The shop signs bore other devices, and from these we have such names as Bell, Hammer, Coates, Mantell, Jewel, Potts, Pipes and others.

A great many nicknames remained fixed as family names, the most important being those which referred to the color of hair or complexion, and from these come such well known names as Brown, Black, Gray, White, Reed (red), Blount (fair). Others were given for some personal attainment or characteristic, such as Armstrong, Mitchell (great), Singer, Whistler, Eatwell, Swindells, Strong, Weak, Small, Osgood (well built), Longfellow, Crookshanks, Longman, Whitehead, Broadhead, Swift, Sober, Noble, Hardy, Doolittle, Goodman, Darling, Long, Short, Bachelor, Savage, Wise, Sweet, Moody and others. To these might be added King, Queen, Pope, Bishop, Knight, Prior, Abbot, Squire, Earl, Duke, Baron, Lord, Prince and others which were originally given to individuals because of their bearing the titles or because of services they may have rendered them.

There are many more which do not come under any particular heading, but owe their origin to some event which the names appropriately indicate—Joy, Bliss, Morrow, Winter, March, May, Weeks and so on.—Exchange.

Making Sure.
"I wish to buy some ointment."
"Yes, madam."
"Will you open the jar?"
"Why, this is a sealed package. Yours is an unusual request."
"I know, but I've often heard that there's a fly in the ointment, and I wish to make sure that there is none in what I buy."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

It is not so much being exempt from faults as having overcome them that is an advantage to us.

ASSOCIATED PRESS CORRESPONDENCE

Sofia, Bulgaria, June.—The occupation by the Austro-Hungarians of Durazzo and their efforts to gain possession of Avlona, has called attention to the commercial importance of these two Albanian ports. Both have in recent years enjoyed prosperity, despite the fact that the political and economic conditions in Albania were not the best. Exports and imports of Durazzo had in 1913 a value of 2,400,000 francs, but fell in 1914, owing to the war, to 7,100,000 francs. The total port traffic of Avlona in 1913 was 6,400,000 francs. In 1914 this fell to 4,300,000 francs.

Durazzo imports iron, steel, coal, textiles, machinery, arms and ammunition, rice, wine and tropical fruits, the factory products coming almost entirely from Austria, while the last three items constitute the bulk of the Italian trade. Exported are lumber, leguminous cereals, eggs, skins and olive oil, reaching in 1913 to a total value of 2,200,000 francs, of which 71 per cent went to Austria and 23 per cent to Italy, the remainder going elsewhere.

Avlona's trade is of about the same character, tho in this case the Italian and Austrian interests are on nearly the same footing.

Albania has virtually no industries. In the two years preceding the outbreak of the war the attempt was made to develop the country in this respect. Several small factories were established but were closed when the war started. Near Durazzo several brick yards are still in operation, as are also a few small lumber mills. Avlona has some oil presses, and an asphalt mine near Selenitz, whose product was formerly shipped to Trieste, Hamburg and Rotterdam.

If the Austro-Hungarians capture Avlona and Durazzo the latter may within a few years have railroad communication with the interior of Albania and points beyond. Several lines have been decided upon tentatively. One of them runs from Sidru Herzegovina and Bosnia to Alessio, costing not less than 200,000,000 Austrian crowns. A projected Alessio-Durazzo-Avlona line would cost 37,000,000 crowns. These roads would open Albania and Montenegro and make Avlona and Durazzo ports of great importance.

Paris, June.—Wars cost Europe from the beginning of the nineteenth Century up to August, 1914, about 65 billion francs, or not half of what the belligerent powers have already expended during the present conflict, according to statistics compiled by Edmond Thery, the French economist, and published in an article written to indicate the progression of the cost of war.

The fifteen years of war waged by Napoleon increased the public debt of France by 588,000,000 francs while the Crimean war alone cost the Republic 1,650,000,000 according to Thery. Great Britain spent $1,550,000,000 in the Crimean, while that war cost Austria 343,000,000 and Turkey and Sardinia together 642,000,000 francs. France spent 650,000,000 francs on the Mexican war, he says, and $53,000,000 in the conflict against Austria for the liberation of Italy.

Prussia in her wars against Denmark and Austria spent about two billion francs while the German about 15 billion on the war of 1870, including 5 billion francs indemnity paid by France to Germany. The war of 1877 against Turkey cost Russia about 2,700,000,000 francs, while she spent 6,300,000,000 in the war with Japan as against 4,500,000,000 spent by Japan.

Paris, June.—Since the beating of the drums that called France to arms, comparatively little martial music has been heard at the rear. Those who have been allowed in the zone of the armies have occasionally met a regimental band with drums and brass instruments slung over their shoulders, plodding along the road toward the first line; musicians go with the combatants and are subject to all the dangers of the war.

The strains of the Marseillaise one day revealed the presence of a regimental band among the ruins of a town still under bombardment and close enough to the German lines to require measures against gas. All the musicians had their masks on, but not interfering with their lung power.

The Coldstream Guards Band, direct from Arras, and the Royal Italian Carabinieri Band, fresh from the Isonzo, brought a little of the atmosphere of the front to the Trocadero recently and reminded Paris of the martial strains that stirred the city during the first days of the war. They were greeted by big crowds with the same enthusiasm as prevailed on the boulevards in the memorable first week of August, 1914. The immense auditorium itself was crowded long before the announced hour for the opening.

The bandman at the front is not a mere musician; after inspiring the troops with martial strains and when the shot and shell have done their work, he drops his instrument and, with the Red Cross on his sleeve, goes out over the field to pick up the wounded. Sometimes he helps to bury the dead, and in some emergencies he brings up supplies and ammunition.

At the assault of Valenciennes in February, 1915, the band of a regiment was ordered to execute the Marseillaise from shelter, but at the moment of the charge the colonel assigned an uncovered spot to the band, which became a standing target for the enemy, only 300 yards away, but continued none the less ardently its mission; it played the Marseillaise eight times during the engagement; not a man was killed. A few days later, the musicians of a regiment acting as stretcher bearers were ordered to sound the charge for a battalion that was about to go into action. The twenty-six men took their instruments and went to the place where the attack was to be made. The enemy's artillery just then began to enfilade the cross road where they were sheltered while waiting for the order. The ground was ploughed by shells and covered with wounded in a few minutes.

The musicians became again at once stretcher bearers, and when the order finally came to sound the charge, most of the twenty-six instruments had been dented, crushed or torn to bits by the shelling. Two or three trumpets were still intact, and with three or four musicians the trumpeters sounded the charge and alternated the Marseillaise with it for a half hour. Other members of the band where there were trumpets to spare; they seized them and sounded the charge. Of the 26 musicians four were killed and seven wounded. The leader was decorated with the Legion of Honor.

When the regiment is resting behind the front, the musicians are the only ones who work; they give concerts for the civilians in the towns where the regiments are quartered, while the combatants are resting.

Berlin, June.—"Alles Besetzt" (all full) said a gorgeously-uniformed individual standing before the street door of the big Friedrichstrasse cafe. The man to whom he spoke had no intention of going in, but he happened to look toward the door as he passed and the uniformed one had parroted forth his one phrase so many times that the simple glance in his direction sufficed to evoke it again.

The passerby however, grew curious, and made a trip thru the better parts of the city. This is what he found:

Three better-class cafes with from ten to thirty persons standing outside or in the entrance-way, waiting for a table to become vacant.

All other win or beer restaurants visited so full that only in one could a free table for two persons be found. Two others where the doorkeeper announced in advance: "Alles Besetzt."

The observer had for months encountered difficulty in finding a table in a leading restaurant having more than 500 tables. In one of the places Unter den Linden the head waiter had been graciously pleased to let him dine on his promise not to retain the table longer than an hour. In another Unter den Linden restaurant he had found that it was all but impossible to eat without reserving a table in advance. And these two places are the most expensive ones in all Berlin.

The condition is symptomatic. War which brings poverty and misery to so many, brings wealth to others. Many persons who had been struggling along with barely more than the necessities of life for years have grown wealthy almost overnight. And they are spending, spending lavishly, spending carelessly. Berlin has become the City of the Spenders.

The crowds that fill the better class places go there in spite of the fact that everything costs more than before the war. Beer is dearer. Even coffee has increased in price. The still considerable stocks of the highest grade French champagnes are finding a bigger sale than ever before, in the face of a price increase of four to five marks a bottle. A prominent German champagne firm recently declared a dividend three greater than that of the preceding year. It was only one dividend contributed by the spenders.

Caviar cost from 15 to 24 marks a pound in peace times in Berlin. Until the recent prohibition of the further import of non-indispensable articles put an end to the business, vast quantities of Astrachan caviar were being sold for prices upwards of 42 marks. Similar conditions as to other luxuries.

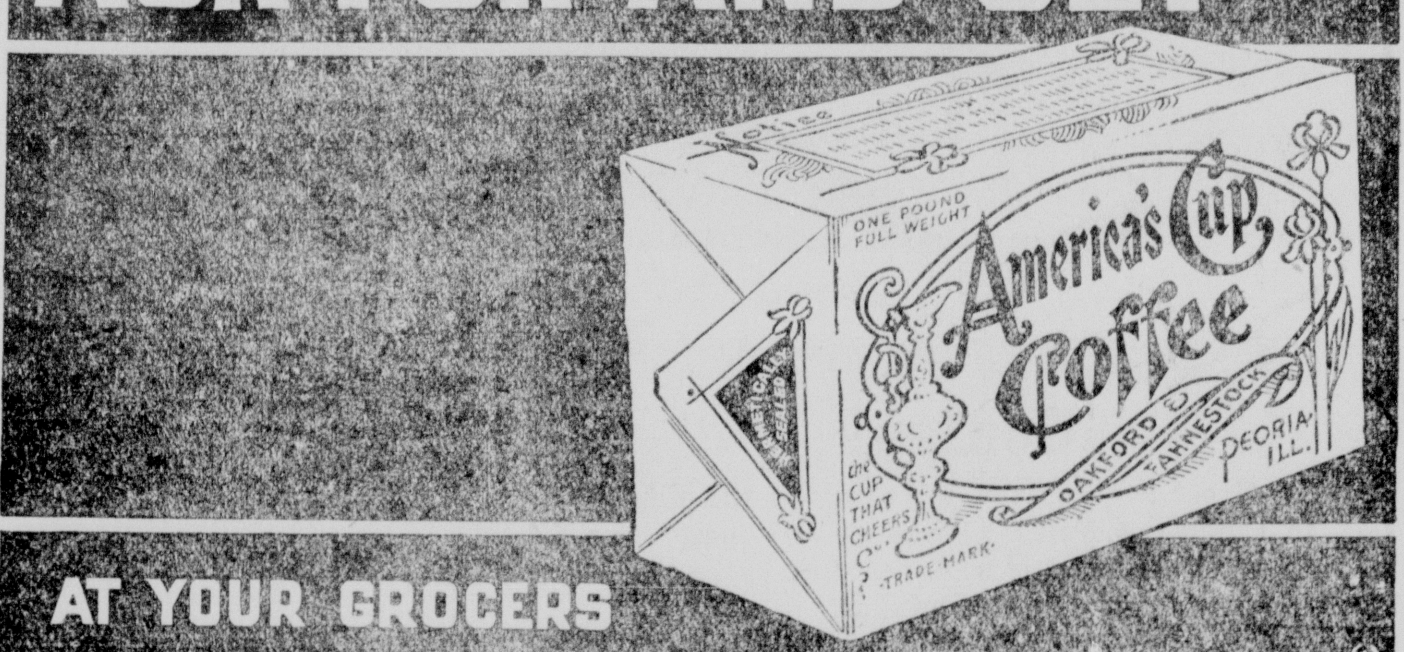

Dealers in fine porcelains, Oriental rugs, bronzes and antiques generally are doing a flourishing business. There are almost no really fine rugs left among the stocks of the Berlin dealers. None can be secured by import, and the spenders have brought up all that were on hand. A Berlin resident went recently to one of the leading auction-houses in the hope of securing an old Turkish rug at a reasonable price. It sold for twenty per cent more than would have been realized in peace times. The same was true of other rugs, of jewelry, in fact, of nearly everything offered.

The most fashionable jeweler in Berlin said to the Associated Press representative: "We are having great difficulty in keeping abreast of orders. This is, of course, due in part to a lack of workmen, but it is due also to an amount of business which—apart from the tourist trade, which is naturally altogether lacking—is probably higher than it was before the war. People of a class who never came here before are now buying, and buying good and expensive articles. I have in mind a typical case."

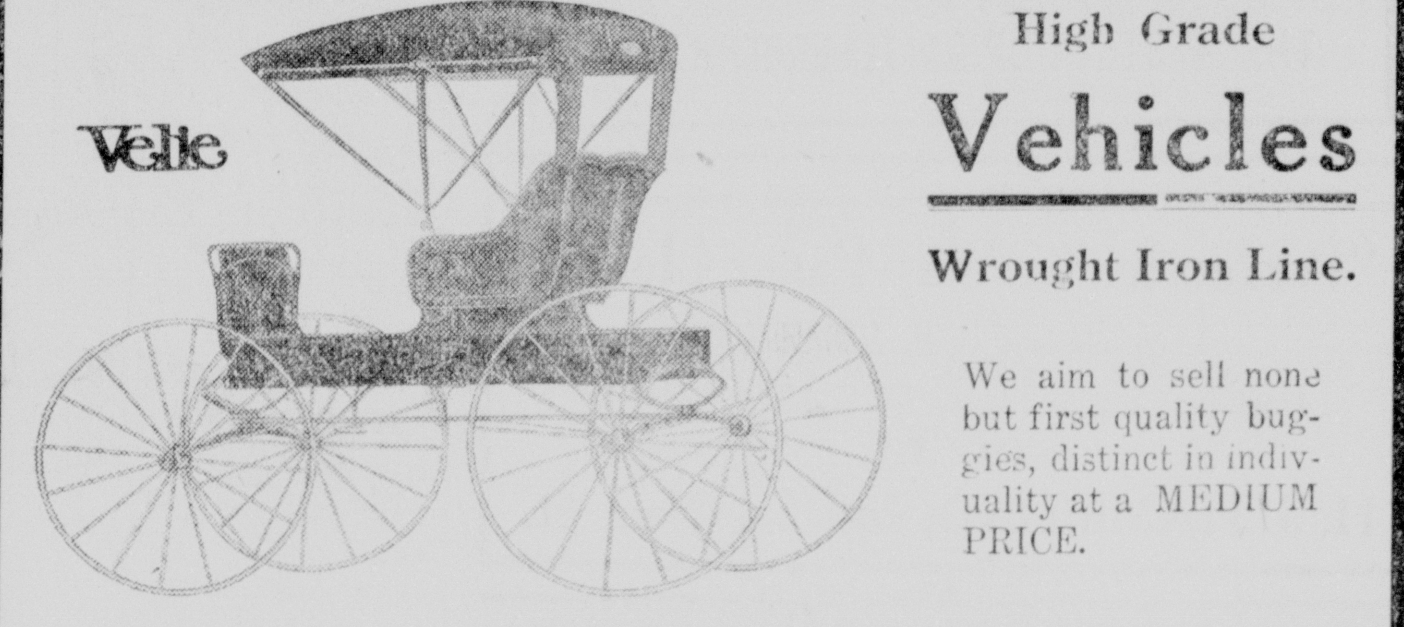

"Before the war a certain woman used to come in once or twice a year and buy some trifling article, rarely paying more than a hundred marks. She bargained unmercifully, always striving to have the price reduced, and none of us like to wait on her. She came in last week and asked to be shown some pearl necklaces. She selected one for thirty thousand marks and paid for it in cash without bargaining. Her husband is a leather dealer."

"Another woman of a similar type has made several large purchases from us. Before the war her husband had a small machine shop, employing three or four hands. He is now running day and night with sixty and has made two million marks." The leading German diamond mining company will pay for 1915 a forty-five per cent dividend against thirty-five for 1914, although cut off from its mines in German South Africa. This sale at increased prices of its stock on hand in Germany justifies this, company officials said. The spenders have been buying pianos. Their children are taking piano lessons. Fashionable tailors are making evening clothes for men who never before felt the need of them or who could not afford them if they did. A mild winter has not been able to affect seriously the business of the best furriers.

The Associated Press representative asked the head of the largest theatre ticket agency in Berlin about condition in the theatrical world.

"Absolutely at the top notch," he said. "Our business is every bit as good as at any previous time, if not better. Indeed, I am disposed to think that it is better. All theatres are doing well. The people seem to have plenty of money, and they are spending it."

This last sentence of the ticket agent appears to sum up the situation. In the nature of things, the number of these spenders, of the people who are benefiting by the war, must be small. Wages for day labor have, it is true, increased greatly, but there are fewer men laborers left to draw them. Reclamations from military service affect chiefly only skilled craftsmen and leaders of undertakings are mainly with the colors. One notes the absence of their custom in the cheaper saloons and beer restaurants, many of which are struggling along with difficulty and some of which have had to close their doors. But as one ascends the scales one begins to meet the spenders, and their number increases in direct ratio with the expensiveness of the resort visited.

Mix the Breakfast Biscuits the Night Before—

Set Them Away in a Cool Place and Bake them Fresh in the Morning

If the family do not all eat breakfast together, you can bake a few at a time. If you are having hot biscuits for supper, mix and cut out enough more for breakfast. They will be much nicer freshly baked than warmed over.

Of course you can't do this very successfully with sour milk and soda or with any of the old fashioned, single acting baking powders, but this convenient way of making hot biscuits and muffins for breakfast is entirely satisfactory if you use which is really a blend of two baking powders, one of which begins to give off leavening gas as soon as moisture is added. The other is inactive until heat is applied. The dough will remain in a partly leavened condition for hours and when put in the oven will come up just as light and fluffy as if freshly mixed.

Get a can of K C today and try this easy way of baking biscuits at once. You'll never go back to the old way.

How to Keep Cut Flowers Fresh For Two Days.

Many people find that they cannot wear cut flowers even for one afternoon, because in some cases the body heat seems to wilt them. But if this can be avoided it is quite possible to find a bunch almost as fresh the second day as the first if they are properly guarded overnight. Keep the box that they came in, and when you take them off hold the stems under running water for a few minutes, taking care not to wet the flowers themselves. Then wrap them up in oiled paper and put them in the refrigerator or in a covered box outside near the window. This treatment seems to restore the flowers and hold in the delicious odor, which so soon becomes musty and rank if they are kept unwrapped in a close room.

Some people think a pinch of salt in the water will keep cut flowers fresh longer, and so it does in some cases. In others it seems to change the colors a little. With roses it is successful, but not so much with violets. A piece of gum camphor is said to be an excellent preservative in the water, and others advocate a small lump of charcoal. But in any case the water should be changed daily and the flowers put in a cool place overnight.

How to Make Fudge That Is Real Fudge.

Two squares of chocolate, one and one-half cups of sugar, one cup of milk, melt these; a large piece of butter, one teaspoonful of vanilla. Boil until it forms a ball in water. After removing from the stove put a scant tablespoonful of cream in the fudge and stir a few minutes. This makes it smooth and creamy. Just before the fudge is done put in a cupful of chopped walnuts or one-half cupful of raisins. For a change pour half the fudge on a buttered dish and over that a layer of marshmallows, then the rest of the fudge.

How to Transfer Feathers From One Pillow to Another.

First soap well the inside of the new case with a cake of soap only just barely moistened. Then sew the case up, leaving an opening just large enough to allow the feathers to pass in easily. Then open a space in the old case exactly the same size and sew the two together. The feathers can then be passed from the old case to the new one without any mess whatever.

How to Remove Iodine Stains From Household Articles.

Tincture of iodine is a very common household remedy. As we all know, it makes a most horrible stain if it is accidentally spilled on our clothing or any fabric.

Immediately after such an accident the articles stained should be immersed in water to which have been added about two teaspoonfuls of plain ammonia to the gallon of water.

How to Make Rubbers Last and Keep Them From Cracking.

To lengthen the life of your rubbers rub them lightly when first purchased with vaseline or sweet oil. The vaseline will absorb the grease, and the rubbers will not crack.

CHILDREN'S DAY SERVICES
HELD AT CONCORD

Program in M. P. and Christian Churches Given Before Large Audiences—Church Anniversary to be Observed.

Concord, June 5, 1916 — The M. P. Bible School, of which Daniel Dietrick is superintendent, gave a children's day service on Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. A good program was rendered in a pleasing manner to a large audience. The Christian church had no preaching service at the morning hour and the members attended the above named service.

The Children's Day service at the Christian church was given Sunday evening at 8 o'clock to a very large audience. The seats were all taken before time to begin and about 60 chairs were used in addition to the pews a number of men and boys had to stand. The program was one of the best this school has presented for several years. A good sized offering was taken for Foreign missions. Miss Eva Abernathy deserves great credit for her work in training the children.

Next Sunday morning at eleven o'clock and again in the afternoon special services will be held at the Christian church, on account of the fact that the present building was dedicated five years ago, June 11th. Everybody is invited to come and bring their dinner. The Ladies Aid will assist in serving dinner on the lawn. Rev. M. L. Pontius of Jacksonville is expected to speak in the afternoon. Other good speakers will be on hand also. The pastor, L. M. Millikin, will preach in the morning.

The M. E. Bible school will give a Children's Day service on Sunday evening, June 11th. No other church service in the village at this hour. Let everyone remember this service also. A good program is being prepared.

Daniel Dietrick motored to Jacksonville Monday morning accompanied by his mother, Mrs. George Dietrick, and his aunt, Mrs. Carrie Dietrick, and the Journal correspondents. Miss Carrie Dietrick is afflicted with neuralgia of the face on account of a bad tooth and went to have it treated. It is hoped she may soon get relief.

Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Brown went to Jacksonville Monday morning on account of the serious illness of Mrs. J. B. Ratliff, who is a patient at Passavant hospital. Mr. Ratliff makes daily trips from Concord in his car to see Mrs. Ratliff.

The Ladies Aid of the Christian church will meet next Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Warren Blumling. The big rain last week prevented the ladies from having their meeting on time.

Arthur Brockhouse of Joy Prairie is at work on a new hay shed 64 feet long.

THE NEGLECTED GROOM.

How a Wedding Account Would Read if He Were Fairly Treated.

This kind of stuff goes every time it is pulled. "The bride entered the church leaning on the arm of her father. And truly she was a vision of girlish loveliness in her up to date quail style gown of white silk veiled in tulle and embroidered in silver on the low cut, short sleeved corsage and flared skirt, walking length. Her flowers were two armfuls of long stemmed pansies," etc.

But this could be attempted but once: "To the strains of the well known Lohengrin 'Bridal Chorus' the groom entered the church holding on to his best man. Verily he was a regular god, a Greek god in beauty, and as he stepped proudly along, head up, eyes front, it was as though some martial hero of old advanced to receive his chaplet of laurel leaves."

"His peepot, flared knee trousers of black walla walla wool warp were visible only below the tails of his black walla walla wool coat. The spats on his fine Passamaquoddy kids were pale lavender. His necktie was a sunburst of color, and so immaculately white was his three ply standup collar that it dazzled. The cold gray lizard skin gloves he wore," etc.

It never would get past. And yet every election day somebody comes and asks us to vote to give woman her rights.—Cleveland Leader.

Nature's Justice.

Nature is just toward men. It recompenses them for their sufferings; it renders them laborious, because to the greatest tolls it attaches the greatest rewards.—Montesquieu.

Worse and Worse.

A negro elevator man in a Broadway office building was telling Bide Dudley, the New York theatrical writer, that his landlord had forced him out of his home because he could not meet an increased rental.

"So he dispossessed you?" said Dudley sympathetically.

"Wuss'n dat, boss," said the darky. "He disstated me!"—Saturday Evening Post.

Missed the "Touch."

Although an Englishman, Cyril Maude does not hesitate to take an occasional humorous fall out of his fellow countrymen. In his latest story he tells of an Englishman and an

"YOU ARE QUITE WRONG, YOU KNOW."

American who chanced to be departing from a continental hotel at the same hour. As the fellow travelers walked away from the desk the American noted the inevitable lineup of servants, from the maitre d'hotel to boots, near the door. Turning to his companion, he remarked, "This indeed a 'touching' tribute."

The Englishman stared for a moment and then replied: "Oh, I say, you are quite wrong, you know. The help have not assembled to honor us, but in expectation of receiving gratuities."

The One and the Naught.

Oliver Wendell Holmes on a sent two poetical letters to the "postoffice" of an Episcopal parson at Pittsfield, Mass. In one of them the first stanza was:

Fair lady, whoever thou art:
Turn this poor leaf with tender care
And hush, oh hush, thy beating heart.
The one thou lovest will be there.

On turning the "poor leaf" there was found a dollar bill, with some verses beginning:

Fair lady, lift thine eyes and tell
If this is not a truthful letter.
This is the one thou lovest will
And hush, oh hush, thy beating heart.

A Few Placards.

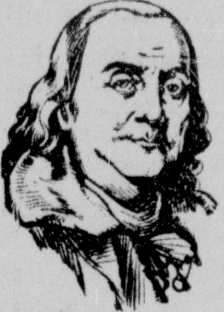

Placard at a moving picture show. "Young children must have parents."

In a barber's shop window: "During alterations patrons will be shaved in the back."

In a tailor's shop: "We die for others; why not let us die for you?"

In a clothing store: "These pants will look better on your legs than on our hands."

A silversmith has a place next door to a restaurant. The former having put up a placard "Jewelry of all kinds plated," the restaurant keeper followed with this: "Oysters and little neck clams plated."

Economy Hints

A penny saved is a penny earned.—Benjamin Franklin.

TO make a slash pocket mark the line of the opening while the garment is on the wearer to be, and when off the figure mark still more clearly by chalking or colored basting. Cut the opening carefully—for heavy materials a sharp knife is best—baste over a small edge, press flat and run a row of fine, even stitching around the edge, being careful not to stretch the opening. For the pocket cut two pieces about an inch wider than the opening about four and a half inches long. One piece, intended for the under, must extend beyond the other about an inch at the top, and both pieces at the top should be the same shape as the opening. If the garment be unlined the pocket is made of the same material, no facing is necessary, and the pocket is stitched round to the opening. From the wrong side hem neatly the shorter piece of the pocket to the under edge of the opening, allowing half an inch to extend at each side.

Now turn the garment on the right side, lay flat, baste the longer section of the pocket up in place and sew either through the stitching or slip stitch from the back, fastening tightly at the corners and taking care to keep the edges of the opening as close together as possible. Sometimes a piping of the material is set in along both edges to close them up still more effectively. The arrowhead or crow's foot makes an excellent finish for the corners of the pocket, and they are used extensively at present. Bar stay tacks may also be used to insure safety.

AN AID TO MEMORY.

How to Make a Calendar That Just Fits the Kitchen.

A useful and unique calendar that is indispensable to every systematic housekeeper can easily be made without expense. A very light colored cardboard can be used, but light gray or white is the most effective. The cardboard should be about 14 by 8 inches and should have smooth edges. First of all, rule off a border about one-third of an inch and fill it in with gilt. Take but very little on the tip of your brush and run it along carefully so as not to run over the edges. Then you should obtain a pad 2 by 4 inches, containing the dates. This may be detached from some cheap calendar which you have or can purchase at any bookstore. Holding the cardboard lengthwise, attach this pad so that its base will fall along the edge of the border on the base of the cardboard. In the space above the pad containing the dates form two columns. In these print neatly in alphabetical order a complete list of articles which you are accustomed to purchase from your grocer. After giving these a coat of gilt you will have an attractive daily reminder for your kitchen.

How to Make a Pretty Bedspread For Your Bedroom.

When a bedroom or small dressing room is papered with anything but a plain or neutral paper, bright colored or flowered chintz should never be used, but often a little color is needed to add tone to the room.

Select a plain white spread of good quality and rather heavy.

Cut from chintz a bunch of roses or a spray of gay colored flowers and baste one in each corner, with a larger one for the center.

Sew to the spread and finish the raw edges with a fine feather stitch or with a long and short buttonhole stitch.

This idea can be carried out for scarfs to cover the dressing table and bureau. Make the scarf or linen cut to fit the top of each and finish the edges with a scallop or a hem, and finish this with the stitch that was used on the spread. Cut out the flowers and applique to the edges of the scarf. Bunches of the same flowers can be added to the corners of the white curtains with good effect.

How to Wash a Shawl So It Will Look New.

To wash a Shetland shawl make a good lather of soap and lukewarm water and press and squeeze the shawl in this till clean, but do not rub soap on it. Then rinse in two lots of weak suds of the same temperature.

Rinsing in weak suds makes the shawl look duffy and new, but if rinsed in clear water it will be spoiled. After the final rinsing press out what water you can and throw it in a heap on a clean sheet pinned to the floor, turning occasionally till dry. Now stretch it on the sheet to the shape and size you wish it to be, pin it firmly down and sprinkle well with cold water. When dry it should look like new.

How to Pull Molasses Candy Without Making It Tough.

When the candy is ready to pull handle as little as possible. Throw it over the hook or nail and take hold of it with thumb and middle finger if you can, and through this method throw it over the hook lightly. When pulling put the favoring on the candy a little at a time and pull it in. It is much nicer than putting favoring in while hot. One can make candy tough by pulling the wrong way.

Let The Aladdin Factory Demonstrator Teach You

A Lesson In Kitchen Economy

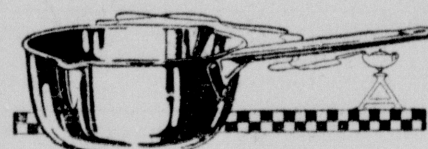

A factory representative (an expert in Domestic Science) will be on hand to help you every day this week. Take your cooking troubles to her and she'll not only solve them, but help you to get results. Stop in when you're down town—it will more than pay you.

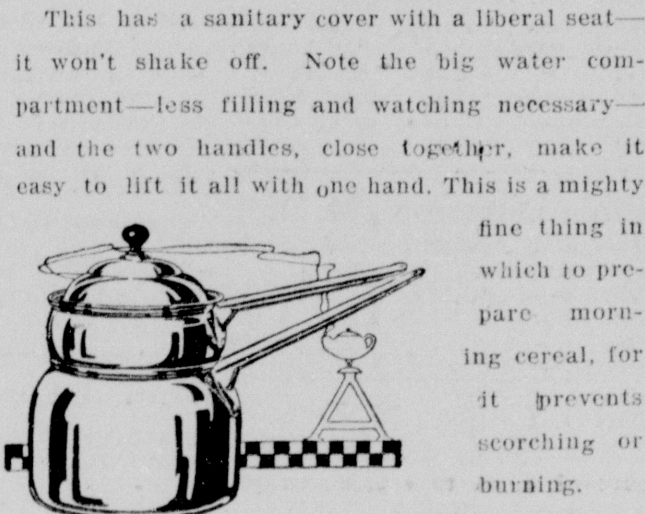

Buying the best food cheaply isn't the only way to practice economy in the kitchen. The right utensil is just as important as the right roast. But you don't buy cooking utensils every day—they must last a lifetime. That's why we recommend Aladdin Aluminum. Let us call your attention to a few details.

Aladdin Double-lipped Sauce Pan

The weakest spot in most Sauce Pans is the handle. In Aladdin ware it is perhaps the strongest. Then, too, the handles fit the hand—no sharp corners. Big triangular base—rivets wide apart—50 percent stronger than any other handle—easy to lift. There are no places for dirt or food to lodge, for there are no crevices or sharp angles—everything is smooth, with rounded corners—comes in a variety of sizes.

Aladdin Double Boilers

This has a sanitary cover with a liberal seat—it won't shake off. Note the big water compartment—less filling and watching necessary—and the two handles, close together, make it easy to lift it all with one hand. This is a mighty fine thing in which to prepare morning cereal, for it prevents scorching or burning.

There's An Aladdin Utensil For Every Need

Besides the pieces we have described above, there are Tea and Coffee Pots that have German silver hinges—rustless, neat and strong—no "wobbly" covers. No solder, but aluminum welding—doesn't tarnish or come loose. Then, too you can make a first-rate double boiler with an Aladdin Tea Kettle, and an Aladdin Insert—two utensils in one—one cover does for both. You'll also find a large assortment of sizes in Berlin Kettles—straight or swelled shapes. You can't help liking them. There's also a strong, serviceable Aladdin Fry Pan that, with half decent care, will last a lifetime. "Aladdin" is easily the finest Aluminum on the market.

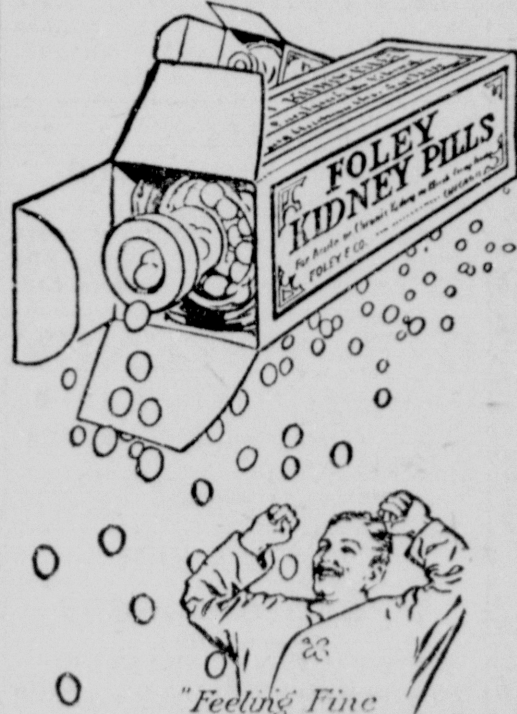

During the demonstration a 4 1-2 qt., Berlin kettle and cover, like cut, regular $1.65 value will be sold for 98c. Come early,

The first showing was made Monday afternoon of "The Fire Fighters," a local movie which was taken here several days ago. A large audience gathered at the Grand to view the pictures.

There is no question but that the pictures are the best yet made of local people. All of them are distinct and the participants act their respective roles in a manner that would do credit to real movie stars. Jay Rodgers and Miss Strandberg, of course, are the stars, but Justice Dyer receiving the fee from Jay for performing the marriage ceremony looked natural as life and we have seen him go thru the same performance many times. Mrs. E. C. Vickery made a capable mother and Farrell Crabtree and Joyce Lander were fine in the respective roles. The fire department also lived up to its reputation and made the run and the rescue in a thrilling manner.

CASE DISMISSED.

The case of John R. Dunn against the Princess Candy company was called in Justice Dyer's court Monday. This was a case wherein Dunn brought suit against the proprietors of the Princess charging discrimination on account of color. The case was dismissed for want of prosecution.

PERFECT WEATHER CONDITIONS
ARE AID TO SPECIAL SERVICES

Arcadia Odd Fellows and Zion G. A. R. Men Hold Memorial Exercises—Children's Day Observances

Many special services were held Sunday throughout Morgan county, and at each of these attendance was promoted by the almost perfect weather conditions which prevailed. At Arcadia Lodge No. 92 I. O. O. F. observed a Memorial day and Memorial services were held also at Zion church near Murrayville. Children's Day was celebrated in several churches of the county, including the Congregational church, Jacksonville, and the Mound Sunday school, west of the city.

The services in Arcadia church were addressed by the Rev. Walter E. Spoon, pastor of Northminster church, who took as his theme, "The Necessity of Expressing the Fundamentals Underlying Odd Fellowship." E. B. Barr, Russell Ogle, Ellis Thompson and Oscar Smith composed a male quartet which sang "Do Not Pass by on the Other Side." The Odd Fellows assembled at their hall in Arcadia and marched sixty strong to the church. The Odd Fellows' ode was sung and Howard McFadden, the chaplain, led in prayer. After a number by the church choir, Miss Esther Spoon, accompanied by Mrs. Charles Pires, sang, "When the Roses Bloom." Rev. Mr. Spoon was introduced by the Rev. C. G. Cantrall of Litchfield. A number were present from Jacksonville to attend the service. At the close of the program in the church the members of the order marched to Arcadia cemetery to decorate the graves.

Zion Memorial Services.

Memorial services were conducted Sunday at Zion church four miles southeast of Murrayville in presence of a large audience. Capt. John E. Wright presided and offered some remarks suitable to the occasion. The principal address of the day was by Carl E. Robinson of this city who won great praise by his eloquent effort and added much to his already enviable reputation as an orator.

At the close of the program the audience repaired to the Gunn cemetery about a mile distant and decorated the graves of the ten soldiers buried there.

The following was the program: Song, America—Congregation. Invocation—Rev. Mark White. Music, "Today This Hallowed Place We Seek"—Quartet composed of Mesdames Jackson and Smith and Messrs. Short and Rousey. Reading—Alma Mutch. Music, "A Tear for the Comrades that Have Gone"—Quartet. Address—Carl E. Robinson. Duet, "The Flag They Loved so Well"—Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Jackson. Remarks—Rev. Mary White. Reading—Alma Story. Music, "Sleep Sacred Dust of Noble Dead"—Quartet. Solo, "Bury Me as a Soldier Should be Buried, with My G. A. R. Badge on My Breast"—Captain John E. Wright.

Special music was provided, with Mrs. Hutchison serving as accompanist to several violinists. Miss Rebecca Scheibel sang with great acceptance. Supt. Ebenezer Spink presided. The baptism of the two children was a beautiful ceremony, as was the reception of four pupils of the Sunday school as members of the church. The pastor, Rev. R. O. WOMAN'S COLLEGE TRUSTEES HELD ANNUAL SESSION

Reports Presented Showing Another Year of Growth—Large Attendance of Trustees and Conference Visitors.

The annual meeting of the trustees of Illinois Woman's College was held Monday. The session began at 10:30 and continued without intermission until 3:30 in the afternoon. The reports presented for the year were similar to those which have been given each succeeding year during the presidency of Dr. Harker in that they indicate a period of growth in every department. Reports were made by the executive committee, the finance committee for the alumnae association, the finance fund by the field secretaries, Mrs. E. C. Lambert, Dr. F. M. Rule and Rev. E. B. Houck. The report for the conference visitors was presented by Dr. F. B. Madden.

President Harker's report, which will be read in detail at the commencement exercises, Wednesday, reviewed the history of the college for the past twenty-three years, the term during which he has served as president. It gave also an outlook into the future, which, if spoken years ago might have been stemped as the words of a dreamer, but which in the light of college history, do not present at all unattainable success.

The financial report gave some comparative figures as to college assets during the last five years, showing the total gain for the period was $37,334.11. In Dr. Harker's report he commented upon the growth of the college proper, on the faithfulness and efficiency of the faculty, and referred, as he has done in the past, to the fact that the record of the institution is unusual in another particular in that there has never been any serious period of sickness at the college during his entire term of twenty-three years.

Among the trustees and conference visitors present were W. R. Leslie, Pittsfield; Thomas Ewing, Springfield; P. R. Glotfelty, Brownstown; D. H. Wilson, Tonica; Dr. Jesse Daney, Chicago; William Harvey Sconce, Siedell; William Clark, Rockford; F. B. Madden, Charles P. Gillett, E. B. Louck, G. W. Flagg, C. H. Davis, Edmund Blackburn, W. E. Veitch, Dr. T. J. Pitner, A. C. Metcalf, Thos. B. Orear, J. W. Taylor, D. E. Crabtree, Alexander Platt, Mrs. E. C. Lambert, W. W. Theobald, Dr. F. M. Rule, Mrs. W. W. Gist of Cedar Falls, Ia., before her marriage was Miss Lillian Hurlburt and a member of the class of 1875 was one of the interested visitors. Rev. Mr. Carroll of Jerseyville arrived Monday evening for commencement exercises.

CITY WILL BUILD EXTENS ON TO SANDY STREET SEWER

Work Not to Be Let by Contract—North West Street Residents Ask for Change of Name.

The business before the city council Monday morning was largely of a routine character. Considerable time was spent in discussing the extension to be made to the South Sandy street sewer from Anna street to the brook. It was decided to do this work by day labor under city supervision and the matter was referred to the city attorney, city engineer and Commissioner Cox with power to act. A petition was read from residents of North West street living between Walnut street and Oak street, asking that the name of that street for the distance mentioned be changed to Barton place. This petition was signed by Otto Spith, Clarence Spith, Ben H. Nuneth, Mayme DeFries, Mary P. Nunes, Marshall Nunes, Edward Nunes, M. Goodell, E. M. Mendonsa, Joseph Fernandes, R. L. Dye, O. C. Spillman and W. S. Cannon. The council seemed inclined to act favorably on this matter, which was referred to City Attorney Reeve, as an ordinance will necessarily be drawn.

Mr. Widmayer was given authority to arrange for an audit of the city books for the period beginning June 1, 1911, and extending to May 31, 1916.

City Attorney Reeve reported the finding made by the industrial board in the claim of James Holt, who was injured while lifting a vase at Diamond Grove cemetery some months ago. The award made by the board was for $157, in addition to the hospital and physician's bill, amounting to $57. The understanding was that an appropriation will be made for this sum when the next appropriation ordinance is drawn. Reports of officers were received. R. L. Pyatt reported receipts as follows: thru the city clerk's office, $403.50; Jacksonville cemetery, $117.70; Diamond Grove cemetery, $297.50. John Pires, sexton at Jacksonville cemetery, reported four graves made during the month. Harry Summers, sexton at Diamond Grove cemetery, reported eighteen graves made during May.

Miss Emma Weller, city matron, reported that she had investigated nine cases, three of them recurrent and six new. W. H. Cobb reported for the water department total collections of $3,008.69, as follows: water rent, $2,936.44; meters sold, $31; taps made, $33; meter repairs, $825.

The balance in the general fund on May 31, according to the report of Charles B. Gran, city treasurer, was $18,053.73. A resolution was read reciting that an accumulation in the bond interest fund makes it possible to transfer to the sinking fund a surplus of $2,500 for refunding bonds of the issue of 1899 and this was ordered done. After discussing the work connected with the proposed South Sandy street sewer extension it was deemed best to have the work done by the city. The ground is low and there will be a good deal of work in water and because of uncertainty as to just what will be encountered in the construction of the sewer, any contractor would necessarily bid quite high.

THREE SENIOR STUDENTS PRESENT STRONG PROGRAM AT I. W. C.

Pupils of Miss M. Louise Gleeckler Heard in Well Arranged Expression Program.

A program of unusual merit was presented Monday night at Music hall by the senior class of the School of Expression, Illinois Woman's college, and to the many who attended the evening proved highly pleasing. Miss Lucille Rexroat of Virginia gave two scenes from David Copperfield, Miss Alma Harmel of Pekin appeared in rendition of Dickens' "Tale of Two Cities" and Miss Corinne Hughes of Waverly read a scene from "The Prince Chap," by Edward Peple. The program was brought to pleasing climax by a sketch, "Petticoat Perfidy" by Sir Charles Young, in which all three young women appeared.

In the two scenes from David Copperfield, "Emily Lost" and "Emily Found," Miss Rexroat pleased her friends with the sympathetic quality of voice she manifested in the delineation of each part and the amount of personality displayed thru out the work. Tho she played the parts of David Copperfield, Ham and Mrs. Gummidge with a facility which was truly pleasing, Miss Rexroat appeared to best advantage in the part of Mr. Peggotty.

Dramatic intensity seems Miss Harmel's especial characteristic and in her depiction of the scenes between Madame Defarge and Miss Pross in "The Knitting Done" she appeared to even greater advantage than in the parts of "The Tale of Two Cities" presented recently in an individual recital. "I am the Resurrection and the Life" a chapter given at the recital was done superbly well. In Miss Harmel's characterizations there was a subtle suggestiveness and a spiritual quality which impressed upon her hearers a strong sense of reserve and power.

Miss Hughes, a senior in the college, is this year doing post graduate work in expression. She is remembered with pleasure by all who last year had the good fortune to hear her in "Peg o' My Heart," Miss Hughes' senior recital number. She is possessed of a keen perception combined with a volubility and grace of mein which make her at all times attractively winsome. She took the part of Peyton the sculptor in excellent manner and personified well the eccentric Claudia, comprehending perfectly also the part of Puckers.

In the sketch Miss Hughes took the part of Mrs. Montevivo, manifesting thruout great naturalness and simplicity. Miss Rexroat as Mrs. Norwood Jones, a friend, persevered in striking fashion the plotting, cut-like character of the cool and blase woman of the world. As the princess and the French maid, Juliette, Miss Harmel appeared with an ease and effervescence of manner which was altogether delightful.

Three hobo cooks who slept in the basement of the hotel Sunday night were suspected and were taken to the police station and searched but the ring was not found. The police are of the opinion that one of the men probably got the ring and got rid of it before being arrested. According to Cowdin the ring was valued at $65.
